PROBE ONCE MORE INTO ORPET'S LIFE

District Attorney Keeps Student Testimony on Death's Scene

WAUKESHA, Wis., June 28.—Resuming today the cross examination of Will H. Orpet on trial charged with the murder of Marion Lambert, Attorney David H. Josly, concerning what happened following Orpet's return to Madison after he had left Marion dead in the woods.

"Did you get up early to get the newspapers to see if Marion had lived or died?"

"No."

"Why, were you not anxious to learn whether she lived or died?"

"We did not get the papers at the house."

"You testified that you hovered over Marion's body thirty seconds or a minute. How did you know she was dead unless you had given her cyanide of potassium?"

"I said that I was at her body probably less than three minutes."

CASEMENT FOUND "GUILTY"; COURT METES OUT DEATH

regard trial by Englishmen in an English court as a trial by his peers, to which he was entitled. He reviewed recent events in Ireland from the beginning of the formation of the Ulster volunteers, and said:

"We have seen the constitutional army refuse to obey the Irish government, and we are told the first duty of Irishmen was to enter that army. Small nations were to be the first consideration. I saw no reason why Ireland should shed any blood for any people but her own."

"If that is the reason, I am not ashamed to avow it here. If the Unionists chose the road they thought would lead to the good side, I knew my road led to the dark side. Both of us proved right. So I am proud to stand here in a prisoner's dock, and to fill the place of my accusers."

"Self-government is our right. It is no more a thing to be withheld from us or doled out to us than the right to life or light or sunshine or spring flowers."

Throwing aside his manuscript, Sir Roger said:

"My lords, I have done. Gentlemen of the jury, I wish to thank you for your verdict. I meant no reflection upon you when I said this was not a trial by my peers."

With a sweeping gesture of his arm and with more feeling than he had shown before, Sir Roger continued: "How would all men here feel if an Englishman had landed in England and had been taken to Ireland, if that man had been placed before a jury in a community inflamed against him, believing him to be a criminal?"

Then the prisoner shook hands with a friend who was sitting below the dock, while the usher placed the black cloths over the heads of the judges. The voice of the justice was firm, but his face was pale as he spoke the few words in pronouncing the sentence. He began:

SENTENCE PRONOUNCED.

"Roger David Caseement, you have been found guilty by a jury of your peers of high treason, the highest crime known to the law," and concluded by sentencing him to "be hanged by the neck until you are dead."

The prisoner, leaning on the iron railing of the dock, with his tall frame, black beard and deep flashing eyes, was easily the most distinguished figure in the court except Viscount Reading. As the judge pronounced the sentence Caseement smiled. Then a warden touched his arm and he withdrew behind the green curtain from what may be his last appearance before the public, which during the trial he regarded him without antipathy, not with some degree of sympathy.

DEPUTY CONSTABLE IS MYSTERY HERE

The police are awaiting a wire from Los Angeles today concerning Glenn A. Morrissey, at present held here until further information as to his status as a deputy constable and officer in the Southern California Automobile Protective Association, is received. Morrissey was arrested by the local police last night on a misdemeanor charge, and will be released if he proves himself all he says he is. Morrissey, who claims that he is working for the southern association, appeared at a local automobile market yesterday and asked Arthur B. Allen to demonstrate the automobile a car without a license.

Militia in Mexico For First Time

Guardsmen Cross Rio Grande to Protect

COLUMBUS, N. M., June 29.—For the first time since their mobilization on the border, national guardsmen crossed into Mexico on military service last night.

Three motor trucks were loaded with New Mexico guardsmen and despatched down General Pershing's line of communication to help guard against it being cut off.

over which the trouble originated. John Hewitt, who says he is the owner of the machine, was with Allen at the demonstration. Morrissey exhibited his deputy constable badge and placed the two men under arrest for driving a car without a license.

8 DEAD TROOPERS BOUGHT TO U. S.

COLUMBUS, N. M., June 29.—The dead bodies of eight American soldiers were brought here today by motor truck from the lines in Mexico. Sergeant Ben Megoche of the Thirteenth Cavalry, in one plain rough black coffin, died of wounds suffered in the Parral fight. The other seven died of fever or accidental shooting.

Happy Thought.

ESTATE AWAITS LONG-LOST MAN

Siskiyou Resident, Missing for Thirty Years, Finally Found.

EUREKA, June 28.—John Fallon, a bridge construction employe, has been located through the efforts of eastern friends at Edgewood, Siskiyou county, and will be informed, if he does not know it already, that a share of a legacy of $30,000 left by his aunt, the late Mary Cody of Becket, Mass., awaits him. It is estimated that John Fallon will get $2000 from his aunt's estate.

Fallon had been lost to his family for thirty years. About the last heard from him was in 1888, when he went away to work at Scotts Camp, Portuguese Flat, Ariz. He was traced from there to Rocklin, Placer county, California; and finally to Edgewood. Postmaster Hackett of Rocklin took a lively interest in running the missing man down.

MEXICANS JEER AT FORMER PRISONERS

Mobs Stone U. S. Troopers En Route to American Soil.

were tied and they were placed aboard a train.

They were stoned, he said, while this was being done.

On their arrival at Chihuahua, where they arrived minus the greater part of their wearing apparel, which had been stripped from them, they were assaulted and stoned again. He denied, however, that at any time were the prisoners put to work cleaning the streets.

One terrifying moment came to him, he said, in Chihuahua, penitentiary when he was threatened with hanging. He had been mistaken for a Texas Mexican and had been dubbed a traitor, he explained. As soon as it was found that he was a white man and attached to General Pershing's command he was informed that he was in no danger.

"We were well treated all the time we were in Chihuahua," continued Spillbury. "The trip here was without incident."

CROWDS JEER.

At Villa Ahumada on the return trip the prisoners again were met by a jeering crowd, which, however, refrained from excess. Spillbury said he would return to the American side with the other prisoners and would offer his services to General Pershing.

Although injured to the extent common where only a shallow stream separates possible combatants, El Paso was interested enough to assemble early prepared to wait indefinitely in case the arrival of the special train bringing the prisoners over the Mexican Central were delayed by the condition of the road.

General Francisco Gonzales, commandant at Juarez, and Andres Garcia, Mexican consul to El Paso, late last night completed preparations for turning over the prisoners to the American military authorities. General George Bell Jr. had ambulances waiting to transport the troopers to Fort Bliss and receipt for the men to be given to the commander of the de facto troops who accompanied the prisoners' special from Chihuahua City to prevent possible demonstrations by the populace.

Prior to the arrival of the train there were few soldiers in Juarez, although civilian guards were everywhere in the city.

Mexican officials expressed pleasure when told the turn events had taken, asserting that General Carranza's action in releasing the American cavalrymen indicated he did not want war.

Shortly before 8 o'clock an escort for the prisoners arrived at the American end of Santa Fe tracks. It consisted of a company of twenty-eight motorcycles, manned by a detachment of the Twentieth Infantry and a provost guard. The throng on the American side was composed largely of Mexicans. Several hundred Mexicans also stationed themselves at the other end of the bridge.

Pending the arrival and transfer of the prisoners to the American side, traffic between Juarez and El Paso was shut off and other steps were taken to prevent any disorder.

Newspapermen, however, were allowed to cross into Juarez.

General Gonzales announced that in order to make time only one coach had been attached to the train carrying the prisoners and that the horses, arms and accoutrements of the men were following on a later train. They will be turned over to the American authorities immediately upon their arrival at the border, which is expected either tonight or tomorrow, he said.

General Pablo Bertani, who had been expected to arrive in Juarez in charge of the special train, was not aboard when it reached the border. Mexican military authorities were unable to explain his failure to arrive.

Claim $8,000,000 Will Was Made by Fraud

DENVER, June 29.—Alleging that Winfield Stratton was fraudulently induced to leave his $8,000,000 estate for the establishment of a home for the aged, Mrs. Rose Stratton Allen, claiming to be a sister, today started proceedings in federal court here to set aside the will. Stratton died in 1902. A woman who claimed to be his common law wife recently lost a suit to share in the estate. Mrs. Allen, a resident of Kansas City, brought suit in federal court to escape alleged prejudice in El Paso county. Mrs. Allen declares she has regained her reason after a period of partial insanity which prevented her bringing the legal action before.

OFFICER AND ESCAPE DROP FROM SIGHT

Following the escape of Jack Hilton, alias Frank Hathaway, who jumped from a moving train in San Leandro while he was being conveyed to this city by Deputy Sheriff Harvey Darnell, an element of mystery was added to the occurrence today with the disappearance of Darnell. It is thought that he may have been drugged by Hilton or that he has given himself up so completely to the chase that he has taken no time to inform the sheriff of his whereabouts.

Word of Hilton's escape reached the sheriff's office at 11 o'clock in an unsigned telegram from San Leandro. The message is believed to have been sent by Darnell, as no one else would have been cognizant of the fact that the man who fell from the train was a fugitive from justice. The agent who received the message at San Leandro says that it was handed in by a man who drove up in an automobile and immediately rushed away.

MAY BE IN PURSUIT.

It is an unwritten law among the deputy sheriffs that in the event of an escape of a prisoner, the custodian shall pursue and stay on the job until the fugitive is caught. This might account for Darnell's continued silence, as it is possible that he is securing the hills toward Castro Valley. But at the same time, fears are entertained that he may have been drugged or injured by Hilton prior to the latter's escape, for the fact that Hilton

Mexicans Ask U. S. for Guns "Graceful Act," Say De Facto Heads

CHIHUAHUA, June 28, via El Paso Junction, June 28.—High officials of the de facto government said here today that it would be a very "graceful act" on the part of the United States Government if it would return ten machine guns and other war materials captured by the American troops in fights with Villistas.

Jose Chavez, bandit, who had been operating in Eastern Chihuahua, near Hacienda, has surrendered to Major Timoteo Rodriguez at Esmeralda.

There were no shackles has to be accounted for.

Hilton's capture is regarded as certain within a short time, as he is said to be a sufferer from locomotor ataxia. Posses are now working into the valleys to the east of Lake Chabot.

The escape of Hilton, who was being brought here from Salt Lake City on a charge of having fleeced Charles Solter, a Hayward farmer, of $500 in a bunco game in the Hotel Shattuck, Berkeley, several weeks ago, was effected yesterday morning at 7 o'clock.

Hilton's leap from the train was witnessed by a grocer, whose store is near the railroad track, and he ran to the assistance of the escaped prisoner. Hilton told him that he was a harvest hand in search of employment and that he had been stealing a ride on the train. He asked for directions to the nearest ranches, and the grocer saw him start off toward the hills, limping slightly and nursing a bruised shoulder.

His next appearance was at the home of the keeper of the Chabot Lake reservoir about 3:30 p.m. the morning. He asked Mrs. Logan, the keeper's wife, for some food and told her that he was going on into the hills in search of work.

BRIDGE WOULD AID BAY COMMUNITIES

Charles Heywood Says Harmony and Prosperity Would Follow Plan.

That the bay cities have prospered more the closer they have been brought together, and that the proposed bay bridge would be the death-knell to such spirit as that of the "700,000 Club," was declared by Charles Heywood, president of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce, and former mayor of Berkeley, in an appeal to the people of both sides of the bay to rally to the support of the plan, and urge speedy action on the project.

Heywood addressed a number of San Francisco and Berkeley business men last night on the bridge subject, showing from a business man's standpoint how cutting down of the time between the cities would benefit business on both sides of the bay.

"No movement," he said, "like San Francisco's 'Seven Hundred Thousand Club' could possibly thrive if a bridge existed between Oakland and San Francisco. The cities would be joined together in such a way as to be physically one community and no man or group of men would think of attempting to boycott either community for the benefit of the other. Each would realize that its own best interests were subserved by the steady and consistent growth of the other."

SEARCHES FOR HUSBAND.

Mrs. Grace de Grear, 735 Twentieth street, has asked the police to assist in the search for her husband, Anson Grear, who disappeared from his home several days ago. De Grear is the proprietor of a local cigar store. He is described as five feet nine inches in height, weighing 150 pounds.

BOARD ADVOCATES NEW BOATHOUSE

Playground Commission Will Recommend $17,500 Structure to Council.

The board of playground directors is ready to report favorably upon the plan to erect a new boathouse on the east board and will endorse the plan to the park board is willing to accept the type of building suggested by the playground board and will endorse the plan to the extent of providing a site. The east shore boathouse was asked for by residents of the district east of Lake Merritt. In petitions filed with the city council and the playground department.

The playground directors had already agreed to ask for an appropriation of $17,500 for additions to the present boathouse at the Willows. This has become badly overcrowded. As the boathouse is one of the few paying institutions managed and owned by the city of Oakland, the recreation board had good hopes of being granted the necessary appropriation for the budget for the fiscal year 1916-1917.

A new boathouse could be erected on the east shore of the lake for approximately the same amount necessary to make additions to the old boathouse at the Willows. After the work of construction had been completed, however, it would cost a little more to maintain a separate boathouse than to maintain the additional unit to the old boathouse. The playground directors take the view that the new boathouse across the lake would give so much better service and so much more satisfaction to the taxpayers and residents east of the lake that this slight extra cost would be compensated for in the extra service to the public. There would be an increase in the business from the additional boathouse, and this would mean an increase in revenue to offset the excess maintenance cost.

The recreation board plans to erect a building of the same general type as that at the Willows, but of a somewhat cheaper construction. It can be provided for about $17,500.

New Crosstown Car Service Announced

Increased Alameda-Oakland and crosstown street car service will be brought about by the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway when two new schedules are put into effect July 1. One means quicker running time over the Alameda-San Jose avenue line to Oakland and the other additional through service from East Oakland to the Sixteenth-street depot.

Following are the new schedules as announced last night by Traffic Manager J. H. Brown:

The Alameda-San Jose avenue cars will run only as far as Washington via East Fourteenth and Twelfth streets, looping back at Washington street and Thirteenth streets, proceeding to Oak and over Oak to Twelfth street where the cars are retraced to the point of commencement at Ninth street and Santa Clara avenue, Alameda.

The East Sixteenth street cars will start, as now, at Fifty-fifth avenue and Ignacio street but, instead of turning back on the Thirteenth and Washington street loop, will continue down to the Sixteenth-street depot.

Sonoma Supervisor Indicted by Jury

SANTA ROSA, June 29.—Chairman Ned L. Patterson of the Sonoma county Board of Supervisors, who served ten years as a member of that body, was indicted by the grand jury last evening on a charge of "padding" his road district bills. Charles Butler, a roadmaster, was also indicted, charged with being an accomplice.

The indictments grew out of the fact, it is said, that having no funds in the road fund and having necessary work to do, Patterson borrowed money from a Healdsburg bank to pay the claims to prevent them from being discarded. Then to meet the interest, it is charged, Patterson directed Butler to "pad" his bills for labor so that the interest could be paid from the county funds.

War on Slav Front Veritable Maelstrom

LONDON, June 29.—A Lusk despatch to the Times dated Tuesday describes the terrible fighting on the Russian front.

"This town," says the correspondent, "is a veritable maelstrom. Along the entire front the contending armies are locked in fierce and ceaseless struggle. No hour passes when there is not somewhere an attack or counter attack going forward with bitterness and ferocity. The troops coming from Germany are rendering the Russian advance difficult."

"The first installment of the Prussian guard is arriving at Kovel, and the German Emperor himself is at that point."

Los Angeles Movie Artist Given Verdict

LOS ANGELES, June 29.—A jury in Judge Monroe's court yesterday determined that Lola May, film star, who played one of the leading parts in the production of "Civilization" was "fired" without sufficient cause, and accordingly returned a verdict for $2163 in her favor against the New York Motion Picture Company for breach of contract.

Twenty-five of Pino Crew Saved From Sea

49 VICTIMS IN GALATZ RIOTING

Casualties Result From Rumanians Demonstrating on Food Prices.

AMSTERDAM, June 29.—(Revised figures of the casualties resulting from the rioting at Galatz, Rumania, Monday, show that fourteen persons were killed and thirty-five wounded, says a despatch received here from Bucharest. In addition 100 persons were arrested. The casualties occurred while troops were repressing a demonstration of workmen against the high prices of foodstuffs. The despatch adds that M. Racowski, leader of the Rumanian Socialists, has been arrested in Bucharest at the request of the Galatz court. A general strike in sympathy with the Galatz movement has been called in Bucharest for Thursday.

GUARD IN WRECK.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 29.—The passenger train bearing the Seventy-first regiment from New York to the Mexican border was side-swiped by a freight engine here today. One man was injured.

Kill Drunkard In Los Angeles

Sot Was Not Permitted to Live

LOS ANGELES, June 29.—Here is a real temperance lecture in which the victim was a dog.

"Juno," a pedigree Irish setter, once a proud canine and a favorite in Venice, was shot to death yesterday—a drunken sot.

One year ago the owner of "Juno" refused an offer of $200 for the haughty setter. Recently "Juno" has been homeless, sinking about the alleys—an outcast of dogdom.

It was a case of bad company. "Juno" met some alley dogs and soon started to slip down grade. She started drinking stale beer from pails left at the back doors of Venice saloons. Then she would lie down and sleep it off. Recently there had been many complaints about her. Yesterday Officer Ross Clark of the Venice force "arrested" "Juno" and took her to the pound, where she met her inglorious end.

WAR STUDENTS TO ENTRAIN IN AUTOS

Railroad Transportation to Be Set Aside for Motor Cars.

Mobilization trains will be set aside by the automobile, when the Monterey training camp opens for the civilians of the Pacific Coast—at least so far as the bay region is concerned. The automobile will display its uses in war when the training camp students of Oakland and possibly San Francisco will leave in machines loaned by local dealers for the trip.

The business men's training camp will open July 10 at the Presidio at Monterey. The automobiles will leave Oakland on the morning of July 9, bearing the Oakland party. Oakland is sending a full company of 100 business men to the Monterey camp, and San Francisco is also sending a large class.

Brigadier General William L. Sibert, commanding the Pacific Coast Artillery district, will be commandant at the Monterey military camp. Captain John B. Murphy will assist him.

Beginning next Monday, uniforms will be sold the "war students" by the government. A station where uniforms and supplies may be obtained will be opened

PETROLITE ATTACK INSULT TO U. S.

State Department in Note Demands Apology From Austria.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The State Department made public late yesterday this government's note to Austria-Hungary in the case of the Standard Oil tanker Petrillite. That vessel was attacked by an Austrian submarine December 21, 1915.

The note is the strongest yet delivered to the central powers. This government the note says, regards the attack on the Petrillite as a deliberate insult to the American flag and an invasion of American rights.

The demands of the United States are: 1—An apology.

2—That reparation be made for the injury sustained by the payment of an indemnity.

It is indicated to Austria that she should make immediate and ample amends.

The State Department denies every allegation heretofore set up by Austria in defense of the action of her submarine commander.

at 104 Battery street in San Francisco. This station will be handled by the quartermaster department. The uniforms and supplies will be sent at cost.

Yellowstone Park Via the Electrified Mountain Route

THERE are two wonders to thrill and instruct on your trip east via the Pacific North Coast this summer—the stupendous achievement of electrification of the main lines of the "Milwaukee" over the great Continental Divide—and Nature's "Old Curiosity Shop," Yellowstone National Park, which is reached by a side trip from Butte, Mont. The Circle Tour of the Park from Butte costs less than via any other northern route.

For 440 miles the main line of the "Milwaukee" is electrified (230 miles in operation). Giant electric locomotives haul the all-steel trains—"The Olympian" and "The Columbian"—smoothly, silently, over the mighty Rockies. No smoke, cinders or dust to annoy or mar your vision of the magnificent scenery on view from car window and observation platform.

ALLIES NOT TO ABATE IN OFFENSIVE

Italian Prime Minister Sounds Determined Note for War

Gun Fire on German Lines Greatest Since First Clashes

LONDON, June 28. — Rome despatches today reporting the maiden speech of the new Italian prime minister, Paolo Boselli, before the chamber of deputies, emphasized the determination of the allies to wage an offensive war from now on.

Suggesting great significance in the present Italian offensive, Premier Boselli said amid cheers:

"Italy intends to continue the same policy as has been pursued by her allies. We intend from now on to intensify the war until the final and decisive victory."

On practically every front except Verdun and a small sector in Volhynia allied armies are now on the offensive. The British war office gives few details of activities along the line from La Bassée to the Somme, but despatches from British correspondents at the front report no interruption in the systematic bombardment of German trenches.

The object of this artillery fire is a simple and terrible one," reported the correspondent of the Chronicle at the front.

"It is to kill Germans in large numbers and save British man power as far as possible. The zone of shell fire has been very wide and far-reaching and a large number of important positions have been searched by high explosives and shrapnel."

The French official statement today announced that French troops were on the offensive last night in penetrating German second-line trenches, and that strong German attacks around Verdun were repulsed.

Pioneer Woman Dies Here at Age of 93

Successing to a sudden attack of illness in her ninety-third year, Mrs. Kate Fitzgerald, mother of Attorney Robert M. Fitzgerald, died this morning at her home, 385 Euclid avenue. A pioneer of California, she had lived in Oakland since 1874 and her passing is mourned by a wide circle of friends in the bay cities. Mrs. Fitzgerald was born in Ireland in 1823 and came to California in 1850 by way of the Isthmus of Panama. She is survived by two sons, R. M. Fitzgerald and E. M. Fitzgerald; two daughters, Mrs. M. Davidson and Mrs. A. H. Davis, and two sisters, Mrs. James Irvine and Mrs. Richard Davis. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 9:30 o'clock in St. Francis de Sales Catholic Church, Father Keane officiating. Interment will be private.

PETER J. CROSBY, who will take the field in congressional race.

FRENCH PENETRATE GERMAN TRENCHES

Bombardment in Verdun Sector Brings Gains to Allies.

PARIS, June 28.—After a violent bombardment which lasted the entire day, the Germans attacked the French position northwest of Thiaumont in the Verdun sector, but were repulsed with heavy losses, according to an official statement issued by the war office today. The French machine gun and curtain fire is declared to have devastated the attackers. The statement adds:

"In the Champagne district near Taucourt in surprise attack we cleaned up certain first line trenches of the enemy and penetrated at several places as far as the second line. Here we blew up a number of sheltering works."

BERLIN, June 28.—The fighting on the western front attained proportions of considerable violence at various points yesterday and last night, the war office announced today, but attacks of the British and the French were repulsed everywhere.

Appendicitis Victim Enters Tennis Tournney

Participating in the Del Monte tennis tournaments two weeks after undergoing an operation for appendicitis is the feat of Walter Baker, assistant manager of the Hotel Oakland, who returned to his desk today after a week at Del Monte, when he played in the coast tennis contest. Three weeks ago Baker was operated upon in a local hospital. A week later he had returned to his desk, and after working a week, went to Del Monte, where he enrolled in the tennis contests.

BENEFIT WHIST PARTY

A whist tournament for the benefit of the relief fund of the Piedmont Parlor of the Native Daughters, will be held this evening at St. George Hall, Twenty-fifth and Grove streets.

CROSBY TO MAKE RACE FOR CONGRESS

Lawyer Asks No Endorsement From County Central Committee.

The long-anticipated announcement of the candidacy of Peter J. Crosby for the office of congressman from the Sixth district was publicly made last night at a meeting of the Republican county central committee. Crosby, who was one of the candidates on the regular ticket as delegate to the national convention and, with Joseph F. Carlson, was elected by a large vote throughout the county, was in attendance at the meeting and addressed the committee.

He thanked the committee for their individual support and pledged himself to make an energetic campaign to bring the office of congressman back into the Republican fold.

Crosby is a resident of Hayward, though he has practiced law in Oakland for many years. He has been at all times closely identified with the Republican party and was one of the leaders in this county during the last election.

The committee last night adopted a set of rules and regulations governing the organization of assembly district Republican clubs which are to be organized for the coming campaign. A committee will be named to supervise the organization of clubs, all of which will be affiliated with the central body. Candidates for the assembly in each district will be endorsed by the district club and a complete legislative ticket for the county offered to Republican voters with the approval of the committee.

T. C. West of Alameda has already made announcement of his candidacy for the Republican nomination. He has completed the work of circulating his nominating petitions. West was an unsuccessful candidate for state senator against George Hays two years ago.

J. Arthur Eliason, elected from this district as a Progressive, has not as yet made any statement as to his intentions. No Democratic candidate has so far appeared.

Jury Discharged in Land Fraud Case

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28.—Federal Judge Dooling today discharged the jury which, after forty hours of deliberation, failed to come to an agreement on the Oregon land fraud case, the trial of which has consumed more than five weeks.

The jury reported that it was hopelessly divided and on their fourth request Judge Dooling discharged them. The case is one involving a fraud of more than $2,000,000 and six persons were defendants. The case was brought to a charge of using the mails to defraud. The jury was composed of E. Ball, W. A. S. Nicholson and Norman D. Cook, attorneys of San Francisco, and A. J. Reetz, W. D. de Garro and Sydney Sperry, real estate men of Los Angeles.

ELECTRICAL MEN MEET

The regular monthly luncheon of the Kilo Watt Club was held today noon in the Commercial Club grill. The principal speaker was T. H. Helms. His subject was "Electricity Lessens Housework." W. S. Van Winkle is president of the club.

A. O. H. TO ENTERTAIN

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the A. O. H. will give a whist party this evening in K. of C. Hall, on Thirteenth street. They expect to entertain a large party. State President J. J. Cox will direct the players.

RED CROSS PLANS WORK FOR ARMIES

Local Branch to Send Bandages and Other Goods to Soldiers.

The work of preparing bandages, cotton and other medical supplies for the American soldiers stationed on the Mexican border will be taken up immediately by the Oakland Branch of the American Red Cross Society, according to orders received from headquarters in Washington. The Oakland headquarters are being established on the first floor of the Federal Realty building at Broadway and Telegraph, where the work of collecting and forwarding the supplies will be carried on.

The relief work of the Red Cross of Oakland, following the lines set forth in the orders from Washington, will be under the direction of Dr. John S. Engle and Miss Lucille Lewis, secretary.

The first branch of the society, which will be taken up immediately, will be the collecting and forwarding of supplies for the soldiers in camp on the border. At the present time, no forwarding will take place until further orders have been received. All supplies will be collected in the headquarters and later will be sent to depots which are to be established at El Paso and San Antonio, Texas. Experienced doctors and nurses will be in charge of these depots and supplies sent to them will be distributed in the camps in accordance with such rules and regulations as the Department of War may establish. It is also probable that intermediate depots will be organized. San Francisco, according to an announcement, has been selected as a sub-depot for Northern California.

Supplies cannot be accepted by the Red Cross Society if they are intended for a specified person. Those who wish to send articles as particular persons are advised by the members to employ the parcel post or express service, as the Red Cross will not be responsible for such packages. Supplies intended for a designated company or regiment may be accepted for forwarding by the society with the understanding, however, that it is impossible to deliver such supplies to that company, they will be donated to other troops.

APPROVED LIST

The following is a list of articles which will be accepted by the chapter. Articles, which for sanitary reasons, would be impractical to send, will not be accepted. Neither articles of food or drink which is deemed by the authorities to be harmful be forwarded. Reading matter, games, comfort bags, pajamas, cotton socks (large), towels, pipes, smoking tobacco, cigarettes, chocolate in tins, coffee, canned goods, and evaporated cream, are on the approved list.

Cotton and linen for the manufacture of bandages has been donated by several department stores, including Kahns and Capwells. The offices for the headquarters were also given the society by William Havens and Walter Leinert.

The Red Cross has sent out a call for women who wish to aid in preparing the medical supplies. This work will be carried on at the headquarters. All societies who wish to aid in any way in this work are invited by the Red Cross to co-operate with them and the national committee.

The second branch of their efforts will be in aiding the dependent families of soldiers who have gone to the border. This work will be under the supervision of a separate committee of workers. The distribution of funds and supplies will take place, however, under the direction of the executive committee of the society. All articles or funds will be accepted at the headquarters in the Federal building.

Those who are interested in relief work are invited to a meeting of the society which will be held Friday at the headquarters. John L. Clymer, Pacific coast head of the Red Cross, will address the meeting, outline the work which will be undertaken and provide the organization of the different relief sections.

LOCAL OFFICERS

The local officers of the society are: Dr. John S. Engle, chairman; Dr. N. K. Foster, vice-chairman; John Davidson, treasurer; and Miss Lucille Lewis, secretary. Prominently identified with the local chapter are Mrs. Fred Kahn, Dr. Florence M. Sylvester, Mrs. E. L. Bryant, Mrs. W. W. Garthwaite, Mrs. T. R. Hogan and Mrs. Arthur Tashira. The Oakland Red Cross was organized on March 2 of this year and its membership has increased to over 200.

Saving Is Shown in Public Safety Work

Commissioner F. F. Jackson today notified City Auditor I. H. Clay that his department had succeeded in making a saving of $248,775 over the budget allowance for the fiscal year now drawing to a close. This money can be placed in the general fund, and will be available to meet a part of the deficit resulting from errors in preparing the budget last year. The savings will be distributed among other departments.

Marin Supervisor, Son of Pioneer, Dead

SAN RAFAEL, June 28.—Gumersindo Pacheco, Marin supervisor for the last thirteen years and descendant of one of the first Spanish families to settle in Central California, is dead of apoplexy at his ranch home near Novato. It was his third stroke within a year.

Pacheco was 64 years old and was born on the ranch where he lived his entire life and passed away. He is survived by his widow, three sons, Paul, John and Joseph, and a daughter. The funeral will be held tomorrow.

Pacheco was a direct descendant of former Governor Romualdo Pacheco. His father settled in Marin county in 1816 on a Spanish land grant given him for distinguished service rendered while an officer in the Spanish army.

American Homeopaths Elect Year's Officers

FIGHT ANTS NOW OR SUFFER LATER

Don't Neglect Them Over the Fourth

If you are bothered with ants and expect to be away over the 4th, it would be a good idea to arrange a reception for any that may try to explore around during your absence.

In the first place put out a little "Anti-Ant" around the doors, windows and other places where they are liable to enter or congregate. This will drive them out of doors.

Then put a few cans of Argentine Ant Poison into the garden. This poison will pursue them into their nests and kill off the colony.

Every day that you allow these ants headway makes it just so much more difficult to fight them. If you give them 2 or 3 days leeway around the 4th, and these days happen to be warm, you'll have a very difficult problem to confront upon your return.

WOMEN ARE NOT SUPPOSED TO READ THIS—FOR HUSBANDS ONLY
How long since you gave your wife a bottle of perfume?
Does she receive the same complimentary attentions now that you gave her before you were married?
Now, just stop and think—how long has it been since you surprised her with a bottle of perfume?
The writer is guilty, for one.
I'm going to get a bottle right now.

TAKE PLENTY OF FILMS WITH YOU—Return All You Do Not Use
Of course, you'll be taking snapshots over the 4th, and the point is, have you enough films for all emergencies?
You might get started and take 20 or 40 pictures which you would treasure all of your life, and, on the other hand, one roll might do.

The best plan would be for you to come into the store and get all of the rolls you need, possibly use and then after the 4th return all you do not use. We will be pleased to agree to take them back.

Of course, you'll have to develop and print them. Almost every one who has had any experience in placing work of this kind ultimately trusts all of it to us.

We do not employ the more economical tank method, but prefer to give each batch of films a fresh solution and each film individual attention. This costs us a little more, but our volume of business makes up the difference in the long run.

We Are Agents for Waterman Pens
There is a gentleman in our store who is a sort of a fountain pen surgeon—if there is anything the matter with a fountain pen he can fix it.
In fact, he fixes up some pens which appear, at first, to be beyond saving. Speaking of fountain pens, we presume you know we are Waterman agents, and as such make all kinds of Waterman adjustments and sell all models of Waterman pens.

Do Your Feet Ache?
There are a good many people who suffer needlessly with tired, aching feet.
Altho it seems impossible, it is nevertheless a fact that a little pinch of Bowman's Foot Comfort sprinkled into the shoes at the end of the day will give instant relief—15c a tin. Surely it's worth a trial.

"BOYS MISSING," SAYS CAPT. MOREY

Six Troopers Are Wandering In Desert Wastes of Mexico

COLUMBUS, N. M., June 29.—Six United States cavalrymen, missing since the Carrizal fight, may still be wandering in the Chihuahuas desert or may have perished from thirst and hunger.

Captain Louis S. Morey, hero of the fight, before leaving early today for El Paso to be treated for his wounds, said the six negro troopers still unaccounted for are believed to have escaped to the barren hills in the retreat from the battlefield. The bodies of Captain Boyd, Lieutenant Adams and the dozen or more other Americans killed outright, were left lying on the field under the terrific sun. What disposition the Mexicans made of the bodies of his comrades, Morey did not know.

Morey retold the story of the brave fight the two troops of the Tenth cavalry made against overwhelming numbers, a story the troops at Columbus camp never tire of hearing.

PENNED IN

Penned in on an open plain and nearly surrounded by Carranzistas, the American troopers alternately fought on their heels and rushed the Mexican lines. Only when their horses had been stampeded and Captain Boyd and Lieutenant Adams had fallen, with nearly a score of others, was retreat begun.

"In the early fighting," said Morey, "all about us little spurts of dirt arose where the bullets from the Mexican machine guns were hitting. Some dust

ROB FOREIGNERS, REFUGEES CLAIM

Say Chaotic Conditions Exist in Southern Mexico Oil Fields.

GALVESTON, Tex., June 29.—Chaotic conditions reign in the oil fields of Southern Mexico, according to five refugees here today. Americans, as well as the men and women of other nationalities, are being robbed of their money and frequently insulted, as they leave the country, while between 500 and 600 troops under command of Colonel Barranca are conducting a reign of terror in the district about Tuxpam, and the life of a foreigner is held very cheaply, the refugees declared.

The five refugees, from Tuxpam district, arrived here aboard the Standard Oil Company's tank ship the Baton Rouge. All declare they were robbed of their money and valuables before leaving Tuxpam. The refugees are August Doid, an oil superintendent, and Dr. C. E. Marshall, who has maintained a mental clinic in Mexico. Americans, and Clement Dean, his wife and daughter, Louise. The last three named are Barbadoes negroes and subjects of Great Britain.

"Cashier A. Zaueher of the Penn Mexican Oil Company was robbed last Saturday just before we left of $300,000 pesos, valued at about $14,000 in American money," said the Americans. "Zaueher is a subject of Austria."

Four Soldiers; One Civilian in Wreck

SACRAMENTO, June 29.—Four soldiers and one civilian were injured during the night when an automobile overturned.

Charles Torillatt, Company K, Fresno, broke his left leg, fractured two ribs and received internal injuries. He has been removed to the hospital at the Presidio.

U. S. Asked to Allow Chinese Cross Line

EL PASO, June 29.—Prominent El Paso Chinese wired Washington authorities for permission to bring 500 Chinese residents of Juarez to El Paso in bond. Growing Mexican antipathy for Chinamen has caused anxiety for their safety.

REFUGEES IN U. S.

GALVESTON, June 29.—The United States collier Dixie arrived here today with twenty-five refugees from Juarez, Mexico. The steamer Port Morgan brought nineteen from Puerto, Mexico.

MEXICANS LOOT BUSINESS HOUSES

Bullion and Other Valuables Stolen; New Shipments Stopped.

NOGALES, Ariz., June 29.—Mexican soldiers have looted numerous business concerns and homes in Nogales, Sonora, among other things a shipment of silver bullion valued at $25,000 being taken from the office of Wells-Fargo & Co. A local firm of bullion buyers made a demand upon the company for the silver and was informed it had been sent to Magdalena.

Attempts to ship automobile accessories and clothing valued at $100,000 across the frontier failed when Charles T. Hardy, the United States collector of customs, ruled that they were military equipment. He also refused to pass gasoline upon similar grounds. However, tons of foodstuffs were hauled from local warehouses to freight cars in the Mexican yards, each wagon first being closely inspected for ammunition.

ARMY LIFE IS NOT SOFTEST OF PASTIMES

THE POOR RECRUIT.

Last night I dreamt of pillows soft, But when I awoke I found I was not.

Some straw was sticking in my back.

Last night I dreamt of turkey roast, And when I awoke I found I was not.

"It's beef and beans again today!"

Mobilization camp, Sacramento, June 29.—So much, enough, army life is no soft pastime. Bodies that were accustomed to rest on fine, soft, feathered beds as the hosts of Morpheus sounded the bugle call for the invasion of Dreadland are now spreading out on crude sacks of straw which rest directly upon soil unadorned and lumpy. Appetites that demanded luxuries and delicacies now have to be satisfied with just plain grub, as, for instance, the "Three B's" of army life—beef, beans and bread. Hands that were used to nothing more strenuous than playing golf are now rough and blistered, the result of swinging sledges, shovels and muskets.

But most of the complaint comes not from the guardsmen but from the recruits to the camp. The fair sex just can't get used to the life. The honest, patriotic American citizen supping soup from a tin plate into which particles of sand creep.

It's not at the mobilization camp, but it's hotter along the border, and the militiamen stand the heat knowing that it is time to get used to it. The spacious grounds give ample room for drills, skirmishes and maneuvers. The state buildings provide splendid warehouses and hospital quarters, and water and sanitary arrangements are the best. In short, officers believe it is an ideal place for conditioning and training men for service in the United States army.

Somebody please write a new song for the boys at the mobilization camp. As it is now, they are limited to "Tipperary" and "Good-bye, Little Girl, Goodbye."

A center of attraction at the camp is a goat in the Fifth regiment corral. It is labeled "Carranzista."

Recruiting officers are doing good work. On the average 50 "lookies" daily have arrived at the camp from various points in the state. And it takes but one day to make them whiskered, sore and blistered.

A postoffice was established today at the camp. Postmaster Fox advises that to insure prompt delivery of mail to soldiers, the writer should inscribe "Camp Hillman Johnson, State Fair Grounds, Sacramento" on the envelope.

WILCOX AND HUGHES

Talk of Organization

NEW YORK, June 29.—Charles E. Hughes, Republican candidate for president, spent today at headquarters receiving callers, among whom were William R. Wilcox, chairman of the national committee. Wilcox later conferred with the national sub-committee on organization.

ENGINEERS ARRIVE

BROWNVILLE, Texas, June 29.—The first section of the United States engineering corps from Washington reached Harlingen, Texas, today. The train consisted of 100 men and twenty-eight cars of equipment. Two other sections are expected to arrive tomorrow.

TREVINO ARMING CHIHUAHUA CITY

Report Reaches El Paso Telling of Fortifying of Capital.

EL PASO, June 29.—General Trevino is reported to be fortifying Chihuahua City. Intrenchments are being thrown about the city and mines are said to have been planted in the outskirts.

General Pershing has moved his base from Colonia Dublan to a point five miles from there. This move, according to Americans who arrived from the front, was made after the American commander was informed an attack by the Carranzistas was imminent. The expeditionary forces are today camped upon a high elevation and are strongly intrenched.

The arrival stated that the Fifth United States cavalry, recently stationed at San Geronimo, captured eighty Mexicans and took them into camp. Among them was recognized a Villista colonel, who was promised protection if he would identify the Carranzista raiders in the group.

Fearing assassination if he betrayed his bandit companions, the colonel asked to be masked while he identified the men. He was masked and placed in a tent with a small opening. The Mexicans were marched in single file and he identified nine as Villa raiders. These were sent to General Pershing's headquarters.

The advance guard of the National Guard ordered to the border is expected to reach El Paso tonight or tomorrow. Ample facilities have been provided to quarter 25,000 additional troops at Fort Bliss and Camp Cotton. Having been sworn into the federal service at their home station, the militiamen will receive the rations and accommodations of regulars, as far as possible.

State department agents announced the arrival of additional instructions from Washington urging them to warn all Americans in Mexico to come to the border immediately.

PEACE CONFERENCE AT WASHINGTON

Dr. Jordan Directed to Join Delegates to Capital Conference.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., June 29.—Dr. David Starr Jordan was directed by wire to leave today for Washington to which city the Mexican peace conference of the American Union Against Militarism were transferred after El Paso displayed the greatest antagonism to having the conference held there. Dr. Jordan's suggestion to meet in Albuquerque was overruled.

Morefield Storey of Boston and Amos Finckel of New York were named American delegates to replace William J. Bryan and Frank P. Walsh, according to reports here.

In an interview Dr. Jordan said: "It would be an unspeakable shame for the United States to go to war with Mexico on account of the Carrizal incident. The American troops had no right to be in Mexico after Carranza asked for their withdrawal."

Dr. Jordan favored mediation in the present crisis.

BRITISH TRENCH RAIDS CONTINUE

Soldiers Under Cover of Smoke and Gas Attack Germans.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FRANCE, June 29.—Unusually heavy artillery firing, with numbers of trench raids, have continued all along the British front the last twenty-four hours. Here and there were intense outbursts from artillery concentrations from both sides.

The British used both gas and smoke to cover their trench raids. In the French salient were found the bodies of Germans killed by gas. The British retaliated by bombarding the Canadian positions at Observatory ridge and Sorrel hill.

The ease with which raiding parties, under cover of bombardment, can rush a trench, inflict losses and bring back prisoners is such that it has become a systematic nightly business along the whole front.

Thespian Turns Fan; Theater Teams Clash

When a Thespian turns baseball fan he is some fan and does not know what defeat is. Wherefore Captain Joe Jenny, the valorous commander of the Empire Comedy Four baseball team, composed of Pantages stars, will cross bats again with the Hippodrome nine tomorrow.

Tuesday they played and the Empire Comedy force went down to defeat. They challenged the Hippodrome team to a return game and have been practicing ever since.

The theatrical baseball team is the queerest aggregation ever organized. Jenny, who was an old baseball catcher before he turned actor, is the catcher. The two pitchers are Harry Gilbert, of "The New Leader" company, and Jack Delman, the "Leader." The members of the quartet are basemen, save for the redoubtable catcher, and J. Roy Bennett and Sharon Stephens, of "The Boy from Home" company are fielders. General Pisanio, the marksmen, substitutes for the pitchers, has a remarkably true eye, and is one of their best pinch hitters. Tom Thibault and A. Cody of the "Stylish Steppers" are shortstop and right field. Paul Denno is their umpire.

BUSINESS MAN GETS DECREE.

Jorgen Lassen, a local business man, was today awarded an interlocutory decree of divorce in the superior court from Clara Olava Lassen. Deserution was charged. He declared that they had been married in 1904 and that after coming to California his wife refused to live with him. She filed a formal denial.

BRIDES, SWEETHEARTS, MOTHERS, SEW FOR BOYS IN NATIONAL GUARD

MRS. ANDREW H. KOCKRITZ, "WAR BRIDE," MAILING PACKAGE TO BE SENT TO SOLDIER HUSBAND, AND MRS. THOMAS H. LARKE, ORGANIZER OF GROUP OF WOMEN WHO WILL SHIP REMEMBRANCES TO BORDER.

Private Kockritz First "War Hubby" to Get Dunnage Bag

BERKELEY, June 29.—When Private Andrew H. Kockritz, Company C, Fifth Regiment of the National Guard, drew his share of paraphernalia from a box of bags and clothing sent him in Sacramento, he rightfully took the nails out of the box as well.

The fair hands of Mrs. Kockritz, his bride of but two weeks, drove them there with many a loving thought for the comfort of her soldier husband, so they are his by every right of sentiment and romance.

Mrs. Kockritz was one of a party of women whose sons or husbands, brothers or sweethearts, are waiting with their regiment at Sacramento for the orders to take them toward the Mexican line, who gathered at the home of Mrs. Thomas H. Larke of 2927 Garber street and spent the afternoon sewing bags for soldiers. It was Mrs. Larke's son, Thomas H. Larke, Jr., who of all the members of Company C, went to Sacramento with a dunnage bag.

The military regulations not only permit dunnage bags and advise them; they go into all sorts of details as to what should be in them. The size is given and khaki is advised as the material. The dunnage bags are a rightful portion of each militiaman's baggage, in which he may carry such private possessions as his wife's picture, his tooth brush and comb, his moccasins, pipe, mustard, plaster, spoon of No. 40 cotton and darning needle and a few treasures of that sort.

Mrs. Larke conceived the idea that the other company members ought likewise to be provided, and invited all the women she knew with an interest in the company to her home. There they sewed throughout the afternoon. Finally they packed the box. Mrs. Kockritz drove the nails home without hitting her thumb and next morning Mrs. Larke was off on an early train for Sacramento with the box safely stowed away in the baggage car.

The group of conscientious women who prepared the dunnage bags do not mean to stop at this one gift, nor to be content with the small membership of their impromptu organization. They will continue to sew and plan for the soldier boys and to enlist knowsmen of other members of the company with them in their loving tasks.

"Our Boys" Are Entraining War's Hem Brushes Camp Youths Very Eager to Leave

(Special Despatch to The TRIBUNE)

SACRAMENTO, June 29.—The sinister figure of war—grim, relentless, deadly—swept the National Guard mobilization field today with the hem of a shadowy garment. Nerves keyed to a tense pitch, strained faces and the snap of quick commands, marked the transition from a pictorial pageant to a potent reality, with the coming of the magic word "entrain" from headquarters at 5 o'clock last night. Over night the camp became an active machine, compacted under Uncle Sam's orders, to kill or be killed, but most of all to be hurried to some distant border point.

One thousand life-sized, strung units of cavalry, infantry and artillery—the nation's military triad—almost wept with joy when the word came, breaking the tensions of two days with a hint of real action about to be consummated. Twice within sixteen hours the first squad of cavalry has reported to the western headquarters of the United States army that it is ready for service and other divisions are reporting today. Ammunition wagons are hurrying to and fro with their deadly cargoes, commissary wagons loaded to the guards with supplies are constantly unloading and on nearby tracks troop trains with steam up are waiting impatiently. The whole mobilization grounds are alive with the picture of organized unrest.

LOAD MACHINE GUNS.

In machine gun row, where only a small squad has been gathered, men are busy tucking shells into the endless belts, destined to spray death across border no-man's-lands which form the vicious fuel of the army's deadliest weapon. At the artillery headquarters pins and calissons are being oiled and cleaned for the hundredth time and shells checked up. Somehow the opinion has grown with the American artillery will bulk large in Mexican affairs, as it has in Europe, and the men reflect the seriousness of the rumor in their added care of the various field pieces.

College boys, headless youths, many of whom look under the eyes of their mothers, who reported for duty with mandolins and ukuleles, white collars and lavender socks, have dropped the easy-going familiarity of the army and have become men of war, with the burden of a nation and concerned only with straps, kits and military accoutrements. Word of the blistered feet and sunburned noses which are to come with the actual service down on the border has filtered in through official channels and many of the recruits are stripping down to army requirements in anticipation of the grueling days to come.

HUMOR AND PATHOS.

Humor and pathos are strangely blended in this camp of five thousand boys of humanity—humor of the moment, pathos born of the occasion. The first squadron of cavalry, which, by priority of mustering, expects to be first to leave, supplies a good deal of the former with full measure in the mess kitchen, which is decorated with the placard "Waldorf Hotel." Of its kind it is a first-class army hostelry.

"Wish Uncle Sam would hurry up with our horses," growled one stalwart cavalryman. "We are nearly out of stow."

"Oh, cheer!" from another. "There's a collar button in my coffee."

"If you don't like the service, complain to the management." This from the much-harried chef, and so it goes—good-natured banter with the undercurrent of emotionism ever near the surface.

OAKLANDERS DRINK MILK.

Almost an entire company comprises the "bald-headed squad"—a cool and airy outfit, totally barren of hair. The camp barber, with a huge clipper, does the work when word of Mexico's hot weather, drifted inside the camp lines—shaved each pate down to the bone.

"No Paderewskis in this outfit," explained a corporal, balder than the rest.

The milk brigade is another of the features of the mobilization camp—Company F of Oakland participating. Each afternoon a milk wagon, loaded with quart bottles of ice cold milk, pulls onto the field. Aimed the milk camp stampedes in its direction, where the men fill up on the cooling liquid to their full capacity. The Oakland company claim to be several hundred quarts ahead of any other company in the regiment.

THEN—TEARS.

Tears, real tears, came into the picture when Mrs. Thomas Larke, 2927 Garber street, Berkeley, arrived on the grounds with 148 dunnage bags made by the mothers, wives and sweethearts of the boys. The bags, many of them containing last-minute remembrances and a final message from home. Ringed by the ladies in khaki, she called out name after name. As the boys stepped forward the little bags were handed out with a message of love and remembrance.

"Corporal James Smith!" A tall, clean-limbed youth, with the fire of abounding courage in his eyes, stepped out and saluted. "It's from mother," said Mrs. Larke. She says they found their next door neighbor with another dog—and God bless you!" The corporal took the package, gulped his thanks and turned away, his eyes dimmed by visions clipped from the film of the past few days. He was followed by others. A halcyon silence fell over the little group that somehow set it apart from the rest—a picture closer to the heart of things than many that went before.

Mexican Mobs Loot American Consulate

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Consul Simplic advised the state department today that during an anti-American demonstration yesterday at Nogales, Sonora, the American consulate was entered and looted. The message did not give the extent of damage nor confirm border reports that Consul Simplic had fled before the mob and that the American shield had been dragged through the streets.

American Industries Able to Supply Army

CHICAGO, June 29.—Unless millions of United States troops should be mobilized packing firms, auto firms and all other American industries will be able to furnish the American army with every need on short notice and without materially increasing the price of any commodity.

This was the opinion today of Chicago packers who already are meeting the demands of Uncle Sam.

Censorship Ordered on Troop Train Movement

CHICAGO, June 29.—The government clamped a censorship on railway officials today, ordering them to make public no more troop movements over their lines. The New York Central and Erie railway managers here announced they had been instructed to refer all inquiries to the war department.

'POLICE' PLAN ISURGED FOR AMERICAS

A. B. C. Diplomats See Peace Promise in Suggestion

Armies of Nations in West Would Patrol All Territory

WASHINGTON, June 29.—A Pan-American "police" force, composed of detachments of the armies of the United States, Argentina, Brazil, Chile and possibly other Latin-American republics, to restore, not to crush, Mexico. This is the suggestion brought to the attention of the administration and South American officials today from certain quarters, which, it is believed, will lead eventually to serious consideration of the project.

Latin-America cannot conceive of war between the United States and Mexico, according to Ambassador Noon of Argentina, who set this forth clearly with a strong appeal for the preservation of pan-Americanism yesterday. To those interested in furthering the Pan-American movement, the present crisis between the United States and Mexico is regarded as a vital test of the principles for which the powers of the Americas have been striving.

CIVIL WAR.

Strife between nations of the Americas would be regarded by them as a virtual civil war. They point out that every treaty negotiated between European powers has fallen apart. With all the rest of the world divided, they contend that the Americas must present a united front, the nations of the two continents must join interests—diplomatically, commercially and industrially. War between any two of the American nations would mean the immediate division into groups, thus weakening the entire, and leaving the way open at the end of the European war for possible influence, if not domination, from abroad.

To preserve the strength and unity of the Americas, Latin-American as well as administration men working in the interests of pan-Americanism declare it is imperative, first, that peace in the Americas be maintained now and, second, that a way be found to enforce continued peace in the future. This brings the suggestion of a pan-American police force.

It is pointed out that most of the trouble of the world peace advanced to date have been based upon the establishment of an international police force. In the present situation between the United States and Mexico and the working out of a general plan of pan-Americanism, those behind the movement see the possibility of a test of the theory upon which may rest the hope of international peace.

POLICE WITHIN.

Successful joint action by the nations of the Americas in pacifying and restoring stricken Mexico would have great influence in Europe, it is believed, toward providing the practicality of international "police" work.

Latin-American powers do not regard the Mexican responsibility for the Carrizal massacre. In fact, the note of Captain Morey rather suggests to them possible provocative action by the American troops. Their view is that the stake for which the nations of the two continents are playing in advancing pan-Americanism is too great to be jeopardized through war, based on such a disputed incident.

Last Oregon Troops Go to Border Today

CAMP WITCOMBE, Ore., June 29.—The last of the Oregon National Guard mobilized at Camp Witcombe were entraining here today for the Mexican border. The troops which boarded the special train were the first battalion of the Third Oregon Infantry, a machine gun company, headquarters company and the regimental band. The command, which is a captain detached from the United States army, was to accompany the troops.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My trouble began with pimples on the back of my shoulders and neck. I paid no attention to them until they began itching and when I rubbed them they would get sore and burn. The pimples were large and hard and would peel off. The burning and itching were so bad that I walked the floor most of the time, and almost cried. I could not let my clothing touch me and I lost sleep because the pimples were so sore."

"I sent for a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it helped so I bought more. It was about ten days before I was healed." (Signed) Miss E. M. Spinks, 1726 33rd St., Denver, Colo., July 7, 1915.

SOME TERMINAL RATES REMAIN

Manufacturers Prepare to Protest Ruling of Commerce Commission.

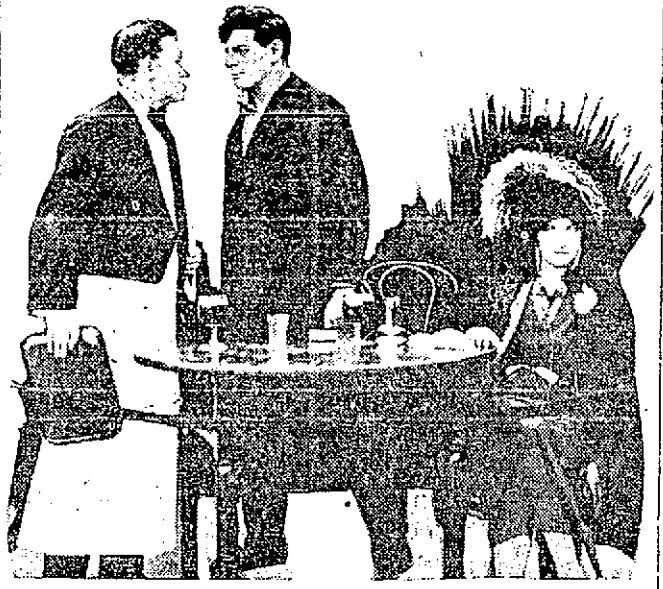

Terminal rates to Pacific coast points are not to be entirely eliminated by the order of the Interstate Commerce Commission which requires revision of transcontinental freight rates by September 1, according to a telegram received today from Secretary George B. McGinty by Seth Mann of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. The commission restores terminal rates as they were before the opening of the Panama canal and rescinds the still lower rates that were granted when water competition with the overland railroads went into effect.

Low rates on iron and steel articles from Chicago and Pittsburgh to the Pacific coast will be rescinded by the order. This will take away from Chicago the 10-cent advantage it had over Pittsburgh and make the rates from both these cities the same as from New York.

The aspect of the order which is to be resisted most strenuously by Chambers of Commerce and other commercial organizations is that section which rescinds after September 1 the rates on certain California commodities to New York. Contingents made for the shipment of these commodities under the prevailing rates cannot be carried out unless the commission can be induced to extend the present rates until December 1 at least.

Comments on the ruling from all points of the Pacific coast indicate that a deluge of protests will soon inundate the office of the commission. Oakland manufacturers are viewing the situation with dismay, for rates on raw materials of many kinds will jump after September 1 to a point that will require modifications in cost schedules and price lists.

Social Outcasts Win by Faith Lesson in Sociological Play

RHETA MITCHELL AND WILLIAM STEWELL IN SCENE FROM "THE OVERCOAT."

Remarkable Story Is Told in Films at Broadway

Solitude is found in the vast stretches of the plain and forest, but loneliness is found only in the crowded haunts of man. It is the poor outcast from society who sees his fellows on all sides enjoying happiness who really knows the bitter pangs suffered by a lonely man. It was loneliness that brought together the two leading characters in the Mutual Masterpiece, "The Overcoat," a five act sociological drama which will be shown at the Broadway Theater for the balance of the week, with Rheta Mitchell, William Stowell and a cast of noted film players.

Maurice Norton was the black sheep son of a wealthy man who is driven to theft through malice for a despising woman. He was cast off by his father and later sentenced to a long term in prison. On his release he returned to the city of his boyhood and, driven by pure loneliness, drops into a notorious dance hall. There he meets Belle, one of the girls of the resort, and while seated at a table with her tells her his story. The girl takes an interest in him and offers to buy him an overcoat, which he badly needs. A friendship springs up between them and she tells how she had been led astray by the son of a former employer and is forced to take to the streets to earn her existence.

The pitiful confessions of the unfortunate who goes wrong are well pictured in this splendid feature and the locale of which was taken in the slums and on the Barbary Coast of San Francisco. There are also some good comedy and scenic pictures on the same bill that round out a well balanced picture program.

"Can't Understand It," Says Society Girl

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—For the first time since she came to the realization that she had been duped by "Dr." Sherman O. Crawford, who had another wife at the time he married her a month ago, Margaret Abercrombie — Crawford has broken silence. In the apartments of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. McGowan at the Palace Hotel, the woman who was styled by famous artists as "the most beautiful girl in California," has told of the circumstances leading up to her engagement and subsequent elopement with the make-believe navy surgeon.

Having recovered from the first shock of her discovery and her husband's exposure, she now is able to smile occasionally at some recollection, for under her grief there is a sense of humor.

"I don't understand it at all," she began. "The whole thing is incomprehensible. I look upon it as a series of disagreeable incidents that have gone out of my life forever, and which I am trying hard to forget."

"Neither myself nor any of my family ever had the least suspicion that Dr. Crawford was anything else than he appeared to be. His posing as a navy officer was open and public, and no one seemed to question him."

"I simply can't understand how it all came about."

Girl Wearies of Life and Dies in Surf

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29. — The body of the young woman found lifeless in the surf near the Chiles has been identified as that of Miss Anna Singer, 350 Willow avenue. Identification was established at the morgue by her 15-year-old brother, Louis, who had been searching for her in vain through the city.

Miss Singer was 21 years of age and the sole support of her twin brother and sister, Louis and Bertha. The mother is dead and the father, an upholsterer, is somewhere in Pennsylvania. Anna, who has been employed by the American Chile Company, became depressed over the cares of life, and Tuesday night she left home at a late hour without saying where she was going.

By the side of her body in the morgue lies that of another woman who sought oblivion in the waters of the bay. It was found floating a quarter of a mile from Alcatraz island yesterday and is believed to be the body of the suicide who leaped from the steamer Newark at 1:20 Wednesday morning. All marks of identification on the clothing had been destroyed.

SAY CHINESE SOLD DRUGS. — Wing Pan, a Chinese merchant of 305 Eighth street, and Quan Wey, a butcher of 309 Sixth street, were arraigned in the police court today on charges of violating the state poison law. Corporal Smith and Officer Curran made the first arrest and Captain Bock, Corporal O'Neill and Officer Buckley the second.

U. S. MAKES COMPLAINT OF STRIKERS

Naval Commandant Declares Loading of Mars Delayed

San Francisco Places Armed Guard on Waterfront

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—United States police are able to keep the wharves clear of striking longshoremen and allow the operations of non-union men engaged in loading United States vessels, the Federal government will take a hand in the strike situation here.

Intimation of this latest turn in the strike situation came this morning when the office of Chief of Police White received a telegram from Naval Commandant Bennett of Mars Island to the effect that the San Francisco police force was not adequate to perfect the operation of loading the United States steamship Mars. The chief then appealed to Governor Johnson asking him to request federal assistance.

The Mars, lying in the stream, is taking aboard a cargo of groceries from the Louis T. Snow Company. A complaint from the commander of the Mars addressed to Bennett declared that the police force was interfering with the loading of his cargo. The Mars is under orders to load and proceed at once to Mexican waters.

Captain of Detachments Patrick Shea, acting in the absence of Chief White, replied to the telegram stating that the police force was quite adequate to take care of the situation and that the loading of the Mars would go on unhampered by the strikers or any one else.

An additional detail of six policemen was stationed on the waterfront this morning.

SEE GENERAL STRIKE.

Labor leaders expressed the opinion today that a general strike on the waterfront can only be averted now by the employers' acceding to all the demands of the striking longshoremen and the bay and river steamboat men. With hundreds of strikers congregating along the waterfront threatening teams who attempt to haul cargoes unloaded by non-union workers, the situation in San Francisco has taken on a very grave aspect.

Last night the Water Front Workers' Federation forwarded a request to all affiliated unions on the question of calling a general strike in sympathy with the union men now out. Action will probably be taken immediately.

It is almost momentarily expected that the Brotherhood of Teamsters will declare a sympathetic strike. At present all union teamsters are under orders from headquarters not to move loads handled by non-union stevedores.

REFUSE COMPROMISE.

The Riggers and Stevedores' Union has emphatically refused the offers of compromise from the Waterfront Employers' Union and declares that they will hold out for their original demand. While the strikers have expressed themselves as perfectly willing to submit their differences with the employers to arbitration, the Steamboat Owners' Association have positively refused to consider the proposal.

Federal Mediator Henry L. White declared today that he still had hopes of settling the strike, saying that he had arranged a new conference with the lumber dealers and was bringing pressure to bear upon the Waterfront Employers' Union.

EXPECT RIOTS.

The entire San Francisco waterfront today is being patrolled by guards of heavily armed police who anticipate an outbreak. The striking longshoremen, with the exception of one disturbance yesterday afternoon, have not attempted to make any demonstration. Webster Welbanks, president of the Welbanks Commission House, while driving one of his own wagons on lower Market street yesterday, was stoned by a crowd of strikers, who followed him from pier 35. Four of the rioters were arrested when a riot call brought a score of police to the scene. They are Michael Murphy, William Shea, Hart Brown and John Johnson.

Hotcake Plant To Grow Here

Castro Valley Rancher Has New Crop

HAYWARD, June 29.—The "hotcake plant," otherwise known to thousands who relish the appetizing breakfast of maple syrup, as buckwheat, is the latest crop to be grown in Alameda county. It is a new importation so far as local farming is concerned, and has taken so kindly to its new home that farmers in this county may plant it over a large acreage.

Ernest Laipner, a Castro Valley rancher, is the first to experiment with buckwheat growing and a specimen sheet of the new crop is displayed at the Farm Bureau headquarters here. Farmers who are acquainted with the soil and climatic conditions necessary to buckwheat growing say it can be successfully grown in this county. Hitherto buckwheat has been grown almost exclusively in the Middle West states.

RUSS TAKE 10,500 MEN IN ONE DAY

200,000 Austro-Germans Are Made Prisoners in Great Slav Offensive.

PETROGRAD, June 29.—Russian troops captured 221 Austro-German officers and 10,285 men in yesterday's fighting. It was officially announced this afternoon.

The number of prisoners taken since the Russian offensive began now totals more than 200,000.

Two Bodies Puzzle at Strange Inquest

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Two bodies—one exhumed from the Elmer plot in Greenlawn Cemetery and one brought from the sand dunes below the South side life-saving station on the ocean beach—confronted the coroner this afternoon in the strangest inquest ever held in San Francisco, to determine whether William Hansen, the fugitive waiter who shot and wounded Clarence O. Swanson, in the Tortoni-Loreto Cafe on May 1, killed himself in Jenner Gulch near Guerneville, or fired a bullet through his head near the tumbling surf.

The body of the suicide found in Jenner Gulch by hunters on June 23 was identified by Mrs. Hansen as hers. Now they are equally positive that they were mistaken and that Hansen's body is the one found by John Fitzgerald Tuesday morning near Ingleside. No decision has been reached.

Tramway, 900 Feet Long, to Be Erected

GRASS VALLEY, June 29.—During the next few days work will start on the construction of a large tramway from the Golden Gate Mills to the Narrows Gauge Railroad tracks, a distance of 900 feet.

The Pacific Western Commercial Company, which is closely allied with the Golden Gate Mills company, is having the work done, and it is stated that the tramway will be used to transport chrome and tungsten ore, which will be shipped in here from the Pacific Western Commercial Company's mines in lower California and Arizona to the Golden Gate mill for reduction.

The tramway will be capable of handling thirty tons daily of ore and the Golden Gate mill is of like capacity.

Woman Divorces Her Clam-like Husband

REDDING, June 29.—Mrs. Malinda Hanson of Fall River Mills has been granted a divorce from Nels P. Hanson, a pioneer merchant of that town on the ground of cruelty. The woman alleged that her husband ate his meals in silence and never accompanied her to entertainments in the evening.

She declared that Hanson would refuse to go out with her, but that when she went to visit neighbors she would find him there. When company came to the home, avowed Mrs. Hanson, he was very gracious to his own guests, but would not address the guests she invited.

Leaves Estate That Is Valued at $75,000

MARYSVILLE, June 29.—Byron B. Diver has filed a petition in the Probate Court for letters of administration upon the estate of his wife, the late Olympia Diver.

The petition states the property will not exceed $75,000 in valuation. An approximate value of $50,000 is placed upon the real estate, located in Marysville, and the value of the personal property is placed at $25,000.

The heirs-at-law, according to the petition, are the husband and two brothers, Frank V. George and Lucien George.

Warehouse Contract Awarded by Growers

ARBUCKLE, June 29.—The Arbuckle-Colegrove City Almond Growers' Association has let the contract for the building of its large almond warehouse to H. G. Birdsall & Co. of Williams, whose bid was $2325.

This amount will cover only that portion to be built this year, the remaining part to be added during the next two or three years. The work will commence at once, as the building is to be finished by August 15. The warehouse is to be built of hollow brick on a modern plan, and will be fireproof.

Copper Plant Head Is Injured at Reno

RENO, June 29.—E. B. Means, foreman of construction at the copper leaching's syndicate plant here, was seriously injured when he fell from a thirty-foot scaffold, on which he was working. He struck on his head and back on the concrete floor.

Besides possible internal injuries, he is suffering from concussion of the brain, an injury to the base of the spine and a broken arm. He may not recover.

Large Tracts Bought by Utah Financiers

WINNEMUCCA, June 29.—The Home, Hopkin and McConnell ranches and all the mountain land owned by Mrs. J. H. Dunn, formerly Mrs. P. Anderson, and the Anderson estate have been bought by the Vineyard and Livestock Company of Ogden, Utah. The land embraces between 25,000 and 40,000 acres.

COMMERCE MEN AT LEAGUE LUNCHEON

Men of Local Chamber Cross Bay to Get-together Affair.

Oakland business men, including the entire publicity committee of the Chamber of Commerce, were guests at the luncheon today at the Palace Hotel, at which was launched a campaign for home industries, under the direction of the Home Industries League.

Local and San Francisco factory men will get together to organize a concerted movement in California to have California products and California manufactures used by the people of the state, and various special campaigns in special localities will be arranged.

Among these the first probably will be the "Try Oakland First" week to be held in this city under the direction of the Manufacturers' Committee and New Industries Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The general staff of this celebration will meet at the Chamber of Commerce tonight to outline plans for this event.

The Ad Manque Committee of the Chamber Advertising Bureau will meet tonight in the Commercial Club rooms to look over reports and outline possible plans for preparation for the big Pacific Coast Advertising Association Convention to come to Oakland next year.

Members of the California Association of Commercial Secretaries will be guests tomorrow at luncheon, when plans for a summer session course at the University of California, to teach the work of a commercial secretary, will be outlined. Secretary J. E. Caine of the Oakland chamber, first president of the association, will submit a report.

Stoolpigeon Charge Discarded by Court

LOS ANGELES, June 29.—"No stool pigeons will be tolerated in this court,"

This was the emphatic statement made by Police Judge Thomas White in the women's court as he dismissed charges against Miss N. Klayman, who was arraigned before him.

Miss Klayman operates a massage parlor in West Seventh street. She was arrested several days ago.

When it was proved she was arrested after a detective had called upon her, representing himself as a customer, Judge White announced his decision.

Deer Runs Wild In City Streets

Borax King's Pet Is at Large

A stray deer is running about somewhere in Oakland today and the police are out looking for it with nets and all the other little tricks which deer hunters are supposed to have. At any moment a call from frightened businessmen in the downtown district is expected at the City Hall. Elevator boys, the traffic squad and stenographers have been warned.

The wandering animal is the property of F. M. Smith, magnate, who resides on Fourth avenue. It escaped from the deer park in the vicinity of the Smith home, a picket from the fence having been removed, broken down or otherwise absent from its usual place in the enclosure's fence.

Pillory to Be Used Upon Wife-beaters

KANSAS CITY, June 29.—The pillory, slightly changed, but the same in effect, is to be resurrected from the old Puritan days and set up here. Wife-beaters will find themselves its victims. Police Judge Brady was granted permission by the city commissioners yesterday to erect a post in the business district, to which men convicted of beating their wives could be chained during the day for any number of days the court fixed.

"The shame of being seen labeled as a wife-beater will prevent such crimes," I believe," the judge said.

REPORTS THERE.

H. Grandjean, 1800 East Twenty-fourth street, reports the loss of a watch, three rings, a bracelet and a handbag, which were taken from his home by a sneak thief.

COMMITTEE TO HEAR OF PROBLEMS

Attache of State Commission to Explain Plans of Finance.

The financial details involved in the troubles through which the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway are passing at the present time, and which led to the action of the Chamber of Commerce, in seeking a remedy for financial condition existing in the road at the present time, will be discussed tomorrow at a special meeting of the sub-committee of the chamber transportation committee, Paul Sinsheimer, bond expert for the California Railway Commission, will be the speaker, outlining in full all angles to be considered in any adjustment plan, although not dealing specifically with the present problem, which he has not yet fully investigated. The committee is considering some plan by which a blanket franchise extension may be voted to the company, which would enable it to borrow money to pay off bonds and notes soon to fall due. As many of the franchises are soon to expire, the company finds it impossible to borrow at the present time, the condition being a serious one.

Sinsheimer will tell of other cases of a similar nature, explaining remedies and failure of some remedies, and may advise the committee on some practical relief for the situation. He will not take up the present case specifically, but will seek to explain similar cases. The present situation has not yet been studied far enough by him or the commission, it is declared, for them to make any definite recommendation.

"SALOME" LECTURE SUBJECT. "The Wilde-Strauss Drama—Salome" will be the subject of a lecture to be delivered tomorrow night under the auspices of the University Forum by Dr. Nathaniel I. Rubinkam, formerly of the Chicago University extension department. In Native Son's building, Mason and Geary streets, San Francisco. The weekly lectures will be given every Friday evening during the summer at 8 o'clock.

ARBITRARY RATE FIXING.

The order of the Interstate Commerce Commission abolishing the terminal railway rates enjoyed by certain Pacific Coast cities, and increasing the transcontinental rail rates on certain California products from 50 to 100 per cent, is as surprising as it is incomprehensible. We shall have to await the receipt of the full text of the order before we can judge upon what theory, other than their arbitrary right to regulate, the commissioners based their decision.

It is apparent that the commission has not considered the granting of its new order in connection with the interest of the shipper. The terminal rates and the preferential rates to meet canal competition were established upon the petition of the railroads, and while the roads have subsequently complained that canal competition had caused a noticeable reduction in freight revenues, they have not shown that the lower rates were such as to wipe out all reasonable profits.

The people generally have understood that the Interstate Commerce Commission was the outcome of a spirit among the law-makers to see that equitable rates were charged by the railroads and to prevent extortionate and unfair rates. Had the commission been guided by this idea it would not have raised rates which the railroads themselves had requested to be established. The justification given for the order—that canal shipping is no longer competitive with the railroads—seems to imply that the commission is favorable to permitting the railroads to charge as much for marketing Pacific Coast products in the East as they can get.

We should not place too much dependence in the hope that when the war is ended and the canal more frequently used by ocean shipping transcontinental railway rates will be lowered. Hearings on the petition to raise the rates were held for several weeks by the Interstate Commerce Commission, at which officials of the principal coast-to-coast shipping concerns, notably the Luckenbach and the American-Hawaiian steamship companies, testified that it was not likely canal freight rates would ever be restored to the level fixed when the canal was first opened. The intimation was unmistakable that the shipping companies would not again attempt to "capture" the rail freight traffic by legitimate competitive rates.

Evidently the commission has accepted the word of the shipping companies and by its order given its approval to an informal compact between the ship owners and the railway operators not to lower rates below a certain point. Just how far this arrangement will serve to rob California producers and exporters of the benefits of lower rates we anticipated as a result of the opening of the canal will have to be disclosed in practice, but we may prepare for a very great disappointment.

CHILDREN AND THE FOURTH.

The celebration of the anniversary of American independence will differ from the celebrations of the last 135 years only in that it will be a bit saner and better regulated to prevent accidents to our youthful and joy-loving young citizens. Municipal officials throughout the land have been striving manfully for the past two decades to organize the noise of the Glorious Fourth and to prevent destructive fires, maiming of children and deaths. So far as statistics show, it has never been feared in any quarter that harm of any sort would result from little children marching in a Fourth of July parade and carrying small editions of the flag of their country.

This year, however, there have been discovered "somewhere in Oakland" two or three women, who claim to be members of the "Anti-Military League," and who appear to fear that the tots of the public schools marching in a parade will add a fatal impetus to the "war spirit" they see in the air. They have appeared before the committee in charge of the coming parade to protest against Oakland's children doing what they have always done on the Fourth. Their demand being refused, they have threatened to exploit the labor unions to gain strength for their protest.

Whatever may be the fate of this native-born infant of anti-Americanism, we believe we may trust the good people of Oakland to proceed with their plans to observe their country's natal day with perfect equanimity of spirit, with confidence that no harm will befall if school children are permitted to unfurl flags, and firm in the knowledge that good citizenship, which is inseparable from loyalty to the nation and to its flag, is the greatest goal to be set before a child.

IRRESPONSIBILITY.

Dr. David Starr Jordan of California has gone to the Mexican border to use his influence in behalf of a continuation of the destructive, bloody mediation, parleying and note-writing that has made up the last three years of our dealings with Mexico. He telegraphed President Wilson from El Paso not to start intervention on the pretext of an "obscure clash of irresponsible troops." He referred to the Carrizal fight. We have previously pointed out that the American troops were carrying out the orders of General Pershing, who is a responsible representative of the American government in Mexico, and that consequently it would be cowardly and dishonorable to stigmatize their heroic fight against annihilation in an ambush treacherously laid by Carranzista soldiers as "irresponsible." We should not have been surprised to have heard Dr. Jordan's words uttered by an administration official in Washington, but coming from Dr. Jordan himself, who we of California know for his service to higher education, it is painfully disappointing. It brings the figure of irresponsibility to our very door.

"The de facto government is impotent and penniless except for our support," wired Dr. Jordan to Mr. Wilson. Its potency for crime, outrage and insult is evidenced in the lengthy recital of Mr. Lansing in his note to General Carranza of June 20th. We have here Dr. Jordan's responsibility arrayed against that of Mr. Lansing.

The extraordinary message of the noted peace propagandist to the President gives peculiar interest to an article under Dr. Jordan's name in the July Sunset Magazine. Therein he writes:

Now that a year and a half of the great war has displayed to us the most awful catastrophe possible to human civilization, and has shown the imbecility of the war lords and war-makers, too feeble even to think of stopping the war they have blindly brought on, utterly incapable of positive action, we find that the world is paralyzed, and is stupidly and hysterically impatient with every influence that looks toward peace.

This is typical of Dr. Jordan's lumbering, nonchalant, extravagant methods. Who of Dr. Jordan's most ardent admirers will attempt to say that anything has proven the "imbecility" of war lords? They have shown themselves quite competent and intelligent at their work, if it is possible to individualize them. Who will say that they are too "feeble" to think of stopping the war, that they brought the war on "blindly," that they are utterly incapable of "positive action," that the world is "paralyzed," that it is "stupidly and hysterically impatient with peace"? No one may do so with logic, reason or evidence. Here is more convincing evidence of irresponsibility than the massacre of Carrizal.

If a soldier dies while obeying the orders of his government, the least his fellow citizens can do is to omit to rob him of the honor of having died dutifully.

In Texas yesterday a jury sentenced a 15-year-old girl to five years in prison for killing an aged hotelkeeper who attacked her in her room. Not long ago a mob in Fort Worth took a negro who had been sentenced to hang for his crime away from the sheriff, burnt him at a stake in the public square and then dragged his charred corpse through the streets. Two militia officers who stole military supplies from their own government and sold them to the country's enemies across the border were given five and three years, respectively, in the penitentiary. A tolerant attitude is assumed toward 116 men of the National Guard who violated their oath of duty and declined to defend the State against Mexican bandits. Verily, justice is using a freak scales in Texas.

DOLLAR EXCHANGE

(From the Philadelphia Inquirer.)
For months a group of bankers in New York has been at work trying to have all foreign transactions settled on the basis of dollar exchange instead of sterling. Considerable success has resulted, but much remains to be done before the system can be considered established. The banks point out how, under existing conditions, the dollar exchange is favorable to all concerned. Exchange on all of the European as well as South American capitals is subject to wide fluctuations which greatly complicate business.

This week a bill of exchange reached New York from South America. It was drawn in pounds sterling, as has been the custom for many years. When the owner of the draft (which was for ninety days) offered it in the market he was obliged to pay 4 1/2 per cent discount because it was to be settled on a London basis. If it had been in dollars he need only have paid 2 1/2 per cent. As the draft was for a large amount the loss was important. Owing to the fact that the National City Bank has a number of branches in South America, there is a good deal of dollar exchange negotiated by it, but many other centers seem not to understand the situation.

There never again will come a time so favorable to settling up dollar exchange as at present, and every man in this country engaged in foreign business ought to work to that end. It will prove a very important factor in our commerce after the war ends. In the past London has well lived off its foreign exchange, which gave it a sufficient lever to conduct business the world over upon most favorable terms. The time has come to end it. Every manufacturer and merchant dealing in foreign countries ought to keep this in mind. It will be best for him and for his customer.

NOTES and COMMENT

"Germany denies that it is behind Carranza." It did not need to. There was no general feeling that such was the case.

The subsequent proceedings appear to have interested him no more. Victor Murdock is headed for China. He not only knows where he is going, but is on his way.

The City Council has adopted a resolution by which official sanction will hereafter be withheld from that amiable freebooter designated as tag days. For which, many thanks.

College professors seem given to expressions which, getting into headlines, are somewhat startling, but taken with their qualifying clauses, are quite docile and harmless.

The soldierette is coming in for much illustration and exploitation in print, and promises to be more a feature of the impending military enterprise than any that have gone before.

Alameda county's effort to vote by machinery was costly and futile. Just why it failed so completely and summarily after all the paraphernalia had been purchased at an outlay of $200,000 has never been clearly stated.

The selection of ex-Postmaster Willcox of New York to manage the Republican campaign is the first emphatic indication that Hughes is the dominating spirit at headquarters, though it is pretty well understood that he would be.

It happens to have been written of Harbor Engineer Newman's parting from his job that he was "just tired," but it appeared in type "just fired," which, considering the atmosphere around Sacramento, may not be entirely void of the truth.

The Board of Control has been reversed. But not on any fundamental principle. It refused to continue the payment of a salary to one of the upholders for an apparent needless service, and the Court of Appeals has adjudged that the salary must be paid.

We read to the effect that molybdenum is being mined in Shasta county. This unpronounceable metal is used as a substitute for tungsten. Its presence in California, and, indeed, its existence anywhere is likely to be news to the ordinary unscientific person.

For a long time fiding of the whereabouts or fate of William Hance, who shot Swanberg, were wanting. Now there is a superfluity of such news. Two bodies have been found, both positively identified as the remains. It is a sort of gruesome confirmation of the adage, "It never rains but it pours."

One of the humors of the local news is that "Dr. Crawford, the fake naval officer, being at liberty on bail, is hiding out at some remote place, escape the shock to his delicate sensibilities of public curiosity. There is danger of his having an excruciating experience when an unfeeling jury sits on him in a rude court of law.

One of the things that T. R. says in his letter is that "they (the national administration) have taught us to accept adroit elocution as a substitute for efficient and straightforward action." Adroit elocution is rather a neat expression. It is more elegant than "hot air," but in this connection it means the same thing.

THE RECALL IN OREGON.

The theory that the recall is a sort of handy "gun behind the door" is not borne out by conditions in Oregon. A number of recall elections were held at the same time as the recent primaries. All of them were caused by the tremendous issue of what roads should be benefited by the money that the county concerned was going to spend upon its highways. People in every section insisted that the money should be spent upon their road or roads, and the county commissioners, having to leave out somebody, inevitably became the object of recall petitions. One county had the pleasant experience of recalling one set of commissioners, only to find that the new set was not able to please everybody any more satisfactorily than the board it had succeeded in ousting. With impartial justice, the recallers were promptly placed upon a ballot to recall them. In consequence of this uncertainty, in which the only certainty is that of making enemies, "many worthy citizens," according to the Oregon Voter, are refusing to be candidates for these offices. But if a man may not decline to run for president in Oregon, surely he should not be permitted exemption from a county commissionership.—The Nation.

MAKING VICE-PRESIDENTS.

Juries are said to sometimes bring in verdicts so they can go to dinner. It has been suspected that national conventions sometimes nominate candidates for vice-president for reasons as weighty. In the Republican convention of 1874 that nominated William A. Wheeler for that office there was one delegate, at least, who had a better reason. That delegate was James A. Lowell.

Lowell didn't know much about Wheeler and was at first disinclined to vote for him; but George F. Hoar, who was working for Wheeler, told Lowell aside and said: "Wheeler is a very sensible man. He knows 'The Bigelow Papers' by heart."

A little later Hoar saw Lowell talking earnestly to James Freeman Clarke and stepped up in time to hear Lowell say: "You ought to vote for Wheeler. He is a very sensible man."—Kansas City Star.

APOSTATES' TENDEREST SPOT.

London expects an exodus of wealthy Americans living in England in consequence of the British government's order that holders of American securities must either deposit them with, or sell them to, the government, or else pay additional income tax.

That is, the United States will again be good enough for those people, now that they are required to contribute their share to the extraordinary expenses of the country which they hitherto preferred to the land of Americans.

Their tenderest spot is their pocket-book.—Albany Journal.

NEWS ITEM---Rumors of a Reconciliation Between Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft Were in Circulation at Hughes' Headquarters at the Hotel Astor Today

The Postal Service of the Administration

Whatever merit we may yet find in the St. Louis platform that pronouncement is sadly misadvised in its reference to the postal service. It makes a clear misstatement of fact, and it claims for the Democratic party an achievement of the Republican party, beside making pretensions of efficiency which all informed persons know to be unwarranted. "We have," it says, unblushingly, "improved the postal service in every branch, and for the first time in our history placed the postoffice system on a self-supporting basis, with actual surplus in 1913, 1914 and 1915." Both of these propositions are to be flatly and unhesitatingly denied.

Take the last first. It is not true that the postal service has in this administration for the first time been placed upon a self-supporting basis. The revenues of the department have exceeded the expenditures and have left a surplus in more Republican than Democratic years. There was a surplus in 1882, and there was another in 1883. There was also a surplus in 1911. As for the surplus of 1913, of which Mr. Wilson boasts, that is to be credited to the Republican rather than to the Democratic party. For the year in question was the fiscal and not the calendar year, and the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913, was more than eight months in Mr. Taft's and less than four months in Mr. Wilson's administration. The credit for its results must be given to the former rather than to the latter. Thus we have the department self-supporting in three and two-thirds years under Republican administration, and only two and one-third years under Democratic administration—assuming that the present year shows a surplus.

Now for the other. The postal service has not been "improved in every branch." On the contrary, it is notorious that in many respects it has been demoralized, and has deteriorated. The bitter complaints of poor service in Cambridge, only a few months ago, are still fresh in mind. But Cambridge was not singular and solitary. There were similar complaints from innumerable cities and towns all over the country. The department at Washington was literally overwhelmed with them. And the trouble arose chiefly from an effort to manipulate the department for political effect. The Postmaster General insisted upon a great extension of the parcel post service without corresponding increase of expenditure for it. He demanded that the railroads should carry the increased amount of matter without adequate compensation and that postmasters and clerks should do the increased amount of work without increased assistance. The result was disastrous. Government employees were overworked, offices were congested because it was impossible for the inadequate force of clerks and carriers to handle the matter promptly, and thus the mails were delayed to the great inconvenience and often injury of the public. Mr. Burleson was trying the cheap and pernicious trick of trying to give something for nothing, to give the nation more service without more cost. That trick can never work.

As a matter of fact the fetish of "self-support" is an utterly inconsequent and unworthy one. The people of this country do not want the Government departments run on grocery store principles, and made to show a surplus every year even at the cost of giving short weight and putting sand in the sugar. They want them conducted efficiently, not cheaply. They want the best possible postal service, the most secure and the most expeditious and the most accurate, regardless of whether it pays or not. If it can be made to pay, all the better. The surplus will be welcome, as it was when Republicans, not Democrats, first and often secured it. But efficiency, not a surplus, is the first and chief aim. Given a high degree of efficiency, and they are quite willing to pay for it, even to the extent of covering a deficiency in the yearly budget of the department. But no surplus, however great, can ever make them contented with the inefficiency of slow, insecure and mislaid mails.

That plank in the Democratic platform is not only untruthful, both directly and by implication, it gloriously displays gross misconception of the functions of government and of the needs and just requirements of the public. The less heard on the stump of the postal record of the last three years the better it will be for the Democratic nominee. The public knows from daily experience the facts.—Boston Transcript.

RIDES FISH TO DEATH.

Riding a fish and killing it is not catching it. Such is the decision of the State game warden in the case of Hiram Beveridge.

The water in the Fox river has been low of late and Hiram saw a six-foot sturgeon in a shallow pool below the John street dam. He tried to catch it by the tail but failed. Then he jumped and landed on its back. It was worse than riding a bucking bronco, but he seized a stone when the fish was floundering in shallow water and beat it to death.

Hiram's knees were scraped raw and his legs cut, but he got 70 pounds of fish decision to chug down the ages.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

A musical program was rendered by the Fifth Regiment Band at the Merchants' Exchange open air concert last evening. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Alston Williams, nee Tucker, will reside at 2114 Vallejo street, on their return from Honolulu.

Among the Oaklanders who will soon leave for Los Gatos are Mr. and Mrs. Taft. Mrs. J. B. Dean and Mrs. James Allen. Miss Josephine Pierce returned to Oakland this week, after a stay abroad of a year and a half.

Rev. Dr. Wendt with Mrs. Wendt will arrive in Oakland next week, after a most interesting trip east.

Mrs. Jean and Florence Hush will spend the Fourth in San Rafael.

INCARCERATION.

Incessantly the long rain falls, Slanting on black walls,
Which glisten gold where a street lamp shines.

In a shop window, spangled in long lines By rain drops all aglow,
An Italian woman's face Flashes into my soul as I go
Hastily by in the turbulent darkness;
An oval olive face,
With the sweetly sullen grace
Of the virgin when first she sees
Among her garden's silver lilies
This white-robed angel gleam
And softly, as by a sultry dream
Feels all her soul subdued into the first
And radiance of her ecstasy:
So—in some picture, on which as on a Lyre.

An old Italian palatier laboriously has played
His soul away, his love, all his desire
For fragrant things afar from earth,
Shines the Madonna, as with a veil o'er-laid

By incense smoke and dust age old.
At whose feet in times of death
Or need of myriad men have laid
Their sorrows and arisen hold.

Incessantly the long rain falls, Slanting on black walls,
But through the dark, interminable streets
Along pavements where the rain beats
Its sharp tattoo, and gas lamps shine
Greenish gold in the solitude,
The vision flashes through my mood
Of that Italian woman's face
Through the dripping window pane.

A DEDICATION TO CITIZENSHIP.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

It is, I confess, rather late to mention it, but as one of the most notable features of the late commencement exercises in the Oakland schools was overlooked and not mentioned in the news reports, I would like to note it now.

I refer to the flag dedication number in the commencement exercises of the Central Evening School. In this feature, the ample stage was filled with two lines of graduates in the citizenship course. I did not count them, but I should say that there were easily 30 pupils in the two lines, each holding in their hand two flags, one that of their native country, the other that of the United States. Some eight or ten of them each recited at considerable length in English, understandably and with an animation which gave the best assurance of a good command of the English language, the story of their change of citizenship, followed by a simultaneous raising of the American flag by all and a definite pledge of themselves to American citizenship and to its symbol, the exercise closing with a recitation by an American-born girl dressed as Columbia standing by a large flag before them, and the song "Columbia," by the graduates and audience. The graduates represented by nativity almost as many governments as there were persons, including two East Indians. In all there was but one who held two American flags—representing both her nativity and her citizenship—and she a black woman.

I am not known as one who hails for the flag on all occasions, but to me it was one of the most inspiring sights I have ever seen in a school and seems to me to reflect credit on the management of the C. E. S. and its superiors in the school department.

NO PAY FOR U.S. WORKERS IN MILITIA

While all over the country employers of enlisted men in the National Guard are making it easier for them to go to war by continuing their salaries in their absence, the United States Government, which has summoned the men to its service, is not doing the same for them.

Postoffice employees who are militiamen and their families must get along as best they may on militia men's salary for their postoffice pay will be discontinued during their absence from their jobs.

The postoffice department has been kind enough to keep the men's positions open for them, but that is all. Whether, like Major Ralph J. Faneuil of Oakland, they receive the pay of a superintendent of mails, or, like men in other companies, only the modest stipend of a janitor, this pay has been suddenly lopped off and the government will be out of pocket only their soldiers' pay.

Berkeley militiamen are hardest hit in this way. National Guard service is popular with the college city postal employees, five of whom are enrolled in Company C and in service now at Sacramento. They are Captain Dennis A. Daly, Second Lieutenant Ernest S. Evans, Corporal Clarence O. Barney and Privates John H. Zelt and J. W. Noble.

Captain Daly stands to lose most heavily by the postoffice department's orders, which Postmaster R. A. Berry will have to follow. He is one of the head clerks of the postoffice, in charge of general delivery. Lieutenant Evans is also a clerk, while Zelt and Noble are carriers and Barney is a janitor. All are civil service men, receiving while on their jobs the regular schedule of pay.

Postmaster Berry stated today that he regretted having to dock the men their pay during their absence, but that the department made no provision for its continuance. All five of the men are responsible for the welfare of dependent wives or mothers or others. Corporal Barney is a bridegroom of a day, having been married yesterday at Sacramento.

Stolen Dictionary,
Also Poetry and Lamp

A thief, who evidently longs for the higher things in life, broke into a storeroom at 323 Twentieth street, taking away with him a dictionary, a book of poetry, an electric globe and a trunk containing a suit of clothes. The globe seems to have been a happy afterthought, it being impossible to gather the culture of dictionaries and poetry without midnight oil. Edward LaPine, Peralta apartments, is the owner.

DAVIE MAY STOP KEY ON 12TH STREET

Mayor John L. Davie today expressed resentment at the action of W. L. Chamberlain in attacking him in the courts concerning the Twelfth street Key Route service, and declared that he had been the father of the movement to obtain a settlement of the Twelfth street controversy.

"It was at the request of the Downtown Property Owners' Association, of which Chamberlain is president, that I delayed in forcing the Key Route service from Twelfth street."

"If I am now being attacked for carrying out the request of this organization I shall take action. I am not going to be made the goat. I shall have the city attorney begin an action, if necessary, to carry out the orders I issued to this company January 24 to discontinue its railroad service, and confine itself to a street car service."

"I am not the one responsible for this delay. The so-called agreement was referred to the city attorney, and he has been so busy he has not had a chance to report. I could not do anything until I had been advised by the city attorney."

A NUISANCE.
"The history of this thing is simple. When I became mayor this Downtown Association sent committees to me day after day demanding that I have this service removed. I was not acquainted with the true merits of the case, and asked the city attorney to prepare an opinion. He went into the matter thoroughly, and rendered me an opinion that the corporation has no right to run trains of the Key Service over these tracks, and that the continuance of the service constituted a public nuisance."

"I so notified the company on January 24, and ordered the company to discontinue the service. Then the Downtown Association revealed the fact that it had been negotiating with the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway and with the railroad commission to obtain some sort of an agreement or compromise."

"This association sent a committee to my office, and asked me not to push the matter for the time being, but to permit them to continue the negotiations in the hope of reaching a satisfactory compromise."

"They explained that all the merchants on both sides of Twelfth street favored the continuance of the service, as it would cause all these people to go on the Southern Pacific Seventh or Fourth and Franklin lines. I did not press the matter, as the agreement was finally reached between the association and company, and was referred to the city attorney. Since then I have heard nothing from the Downtown Association until this court action by Chamberlain, which is utterly unjustifiable."

NO PLANS ANNOUNCED FOR W. P.'S IMMEDIATE FUTURE

Bondholders Not Yet in Control of Line

Plans for the reorganization and improvement of the Western Pacific Railroad, which was purchased for $18,000,000 yesterday under the auctioneer's hammer by the group of bondholders who are to assume control of the business, are under consideration today, but no actual steps for the carrying out of contemplated changes can be made until certain legal formalities have been complied with. "It is too early yet to announce just what changes will be made," said action by Chamberlain, which is utterly unjustifiable."

Chamberlain stated today that committees from the Downtown Association have repeatedly urged the mayor to either take some action or ratify the agreement. He pointed to the letter filed with the city council when the agreement was transmitted to the commissioners, in which the association expressed itself as in accord with the opinion of City Attorney Mott that the Key Service was in Twelfth street without justification, but stated that if the mayor and council thought that public convenience justified the permission being extended, that it should only be extended under the provisions and restrictions of the compromise agreement.

Would Provide Light for Dangerous Road

As the result of two nearly fatal automobile accidents on the county road at Kliliks corner, near Warm Springs, an appeal has been made to the Automobile Association to take some steps to protect motorists from the dangerous turn in the road from Mission San Jose, which joins the highway at that place.

Two weeks ago there was a serious mishap at the corner at night when an automobile party was unable to make the sharp turn, not having seen it until close to the corner. Last night another car plunged into the ditch for the same reason, and it is probable that the board of supervisors will be asked to provide a light at the corner by night and warning signs in the day time. The signs may be installed by the Automobile Association, but the light can be furnished by the county as there are other lights a few hundred yards away within the precincts of Warm Springs.

Cortez Given Hearing on Livermore Murder

Tony Cortez, who shot and killed William Garcia in Livermore two weeks ago, was today placed on preliminary examination in the justice's court in that town. Assistant District Attorney James Koford prosecuted. Justice of the Peace George S. Fitzgerald heard the case.

According to the testimony the two men engaged in a fight over Mrs. Claudia Gomez. Cortez admits to the killing but declares that it was an accident. Mrs. Margaret Tepic, who had been held as an accomplice, will probably be released. The examination will probably continue through tomorrow.

According to the confession Cortez and Garcia struggled for possession of a shotgun and in the wrestle it exploded, killing Garcia.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 29.—The National Wool Growers' Association, through President F. J. Hagenbarth, has announced that it had appropriated $10,000 to the American Red Cross Association in case of hostilities with Mexico. In the telegram making this offer to the American Red Cross at Washington, President Hagenbarth suggested that the association be permitted to furnish woolen blankets for hospital or other use to the extent of the appropriation.

Mexican Situation Causes Stocks to Rise

NEW YORK, June 29.—A rise of from 2 to 5 points in leading stocks as Wall street's response to the more favorable overnight developments in the Mexican situation. Stocks with Mexican connections were among the leaders in the important rise. American Smelting, Greene, Cananea and Southern Pacific gained from 2 to 4 points. The entire list strengthened to the point where most losses of the early week were completely obliterated.

SUMMER STUDENTS GAY AT CAMPFIRE

Russian Dancers Entertain "Little University" Attend- ants on Campus

BERRKLEY, June 29.—Summer Session students of the University of California had their first opportunity last evening to get acquainted with the opulent campfire of a series to be given by the Russian dancers through the Russian Mission. The Russian dancers on the resident staff assisted in making the evening an enjoyable one.

Dances were given by Yevronia Vestoff, who is gold medalist of the Russian Imperial Ballet of Moscow, formerly soloist at the Metropolitan Opera House in London, for two reasons a member of the ballet of the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, and ballet dancer on tour through Australia and New Zealand, who is to teach aesthetic dancing and Russian gymnastic dancing in the summer session at the University of California. Miss Eileen Swepstone, an English danceress whom M. Vestoff has trained in the methods of the Russian ballet. They presented some of the famous Russian dances which M. Vestoff is teaching in the Summer Session as a means of introducing the student to the art of dance. They executed a few of the best dances.

These campfires on Wednesday evenings throughout the Summer Session are a part of the work of the group of "Campfire-Girls," of the School of Directed Activities. The "Campfire Girls" erved as umpires. Miss Margaret Bradshaw of Minneapolis, formerly associated with the Luther Gulick of New York, the world's first female basketball coach, was the coordinator. The game was held in the gymnasium, is in charge of the "Campfire Girls" work in the Summer Session, and is assisted by Mrs. Gustavus Schneider and by Miss Edith Reid.

EDDIE SHANNON GIVEN A DRAW AFTER BEATING

Lee Johnson, Outweighed, Puts Up Stellar Scrap at West Oakland.

Little Lee Johnson, West Oakland's featherweight crack, came through like a quarter horse in his four-lap journey at the West Oakland club last night, and after he had pounded and lambasted Eddie Shannon, Los Angeles lightweight, all over Tommy Simpson's ring in the last round, the judges called the affair a draw.

Little Lee was late in getting started. Against a boy who outweighed him over ten pounds, which is no small a weight advantage in boxing, but Johnson showed only a flash of his real form in the early rounds. Occasionally he was whipped over left hooks which forced Shannon to keep back a bit.

The rest of the fighting was done by Shannon, even though Johnson made him look like a mere novice in his wild swinging and inability to connect for clean jolts on the agile chocolate drop. Shannon's rippling right and left uppercuts, which enabled him to beat Willie Hoppe in a San Francisco ring about four months ago, were of little use to him. As far as Johnson was concerned, he could just as well have dropped them from his repertoire of punches. He scored an up-percut not once against Johnson, and he was by far the smaller fellow and the contest from the start looked as if it would shade the Willard-Moran go of a few months back and the Frank Moran-Jack Dillon party which will take place at the Garden in New York tonight.

However, Johnson, greatly overmatched and against a chap taller, heavier and with a much longer reach than himself, did much better than old Frank Moran under the same circumstances.

The fourth round was the session which gave the fans their only chance to realize that the bout between the pair was a real fight and not a walk, as was the case with Aronson and Moran two weeks back. Right after the clang of the gong, Johnson met Shannon coming in with his guard slightly open and he smashed him squarely in the face. Shannon staggered backward and was apparently due to lift the mat.

Certainly he was not Shannon that he was in the early rounds. That right smash had done its work and before the end of the round Shannon was tired and hanging on for all he was worth. Little Lee shot over a left hook to the face about a minute before the last round. Lee kept at the Los Angeles and tried hard to put over a clean producer but he had too big odds against him in the way of weight and height.

As far as the large number of right fans who witnessed the bout were wondering how in the world Shannon beat Hoppe in San Francisco. That was the main question of the evening. Johnson had made his opponent look like a selling player in the last round, the fans had started thinking that Shannon was wrong with Hoppe the night he let Shannon outpoint him.

Dundee, newboy bantamweight idol, licked Tony Freitas in the star special event, which had the bantamweight title of the coast at stake, but the best he got was a draw. Freitas landed all the clean punches and ripped Freitas time and again with mean left and right and again with midsection. Freitas kept coming all the time and it was mainly his aggressiveness that gave the judges the impression that he was entitled to a win. As far as the points were concerned, Dundee was the way.

The best bout of the evening was furnished by Billy Verrea, who battled to a draw. Alveris outbait his opponent, but his punches were mostly slips with his open hand. Verrea fought like a regular cyclone and poured in a steady stream of punches.

Frank Rocco stopped Jack Davis in the second round, while Ralph Lincoln, Alveris, fought four hard rounds to a draw. "Shiny" McManis, Los Angeles 125-pounder, fought four hard rounds to a draw. "Shiny" McManis, Los Angeles 125-pounder, fought four hard rounds to a draw. "Shiny" McManis, Los Angeles 125-pounder, fought four hard rounds to a draw.

DILLON AND MORAN HOLD STAGE TONIGHT

Local Fans Will Get Rare Treat When Ritchie and Hoppe Meet Tomorrow

When Jack Dillon, the compact bundle of fighting energy from Indianapolis, climbs through the ropes at the Madison Square Garden, tonight to do battle with Frank Moran, the Pittsburgh bear-cat, the second big heavyweight battle within the short lapse of a little over three months will have been staged.

It was on the night of March 26 that Jess Willard and Moran met in that one-sided bout at the Garden.

The contest, in which the champion had a huge advantage over the challenger in weight, height and reach, was all Willard's from the start and with the same physical conditions holding true in tonight's contest, a large majority of the fans are picking Moran to win. Dillon, who is five inches taller and five inches heavier than Moran, gave Willard a five inch lead in weight and five inches in height.

MORAN IS FAVORITE.

Naturally, Willard had little difficulty in beating Moran under the same conditions. It looks as if the blowy Pittsburgher will make things exceedingly tricky for Dillon.

However, instead of a boxer facing a fighter, as was the case at the Garden last night, Dillon and Moran meet in a fight tonight which will be a real action affair. Both depend upon their wallop to win. Of the two, Dillon, aggressive, because of being smaller in size and having not so much weight to lift, he will be more agile and shifty. But it is a certainty that he will not try to box Moran this evening.

To score a clean, decisive victory, which he must do to keep his title, Moran must put over a knockout punch or at least give a good thrashing.

Thorough thrashing. That Dillon is a great fighter goes without saying.

When he was beaten by Morrissey, he was more inches of height and about 20 extra pounds, he would easily be the world's greatest heavyweight. Today he is just between two classes, which is a disadvantage. He is 160 pounds and but 5 feet 7 inches in height, he is too big for the middleweight class and too small for the heavyweight class. But despite these advantages, he is ranked at the top of American boxers.

When you look at him stripped for action you will see one of the most compact, built men who ever stepped into the ring. He is only 25 years of age and has been boxing seven years, having won the Pacific coast title in 1908. He is a dangerous customer to face and is rated by men who have boxed him as a regular rib breaker.

JACK IS KAYO BOY.

In the eight years which Jack has been boxing, he has engaged in more than 100 fights, but only one has been won by the knockout route. Starting as a youngster weighing scarcely 130 pounds, he has reached through a series of classic fights to become a heavyweight and has never taken the count. There is no doubt that he is the best light-heavyweight in the world today, but it is doubtful whether he can give weight and height and other physical advantages to men such as Morrissey, Pulton and Willard and get away with it.

Maybe he can and perhaps he cannot. If Dillon wins, he will certainly have upset the dope in the fight game.

There will be no mammoth four round all-star boxing show staged at Daly City on the Fourth of July. So said Louis Parente, transbay promoter, last night. He had been looking for a show on that date, but several obstacles have crossed his path, one of which has to do with the fight between Ritchie-Hoppe affair. Staging a card tomorrow night and another on the fourth, which is only four days between, is too much for the fans of San Francisco to stand. Then, if Louis did stage a show on America's natal day, he would be forced to call down the line by Friday night, July 7. So, rather than break his customary show date, which is on the evening of every Friday night, Louis had decided not to stage any on the Fourth.

RITCHIE FAVORITE.

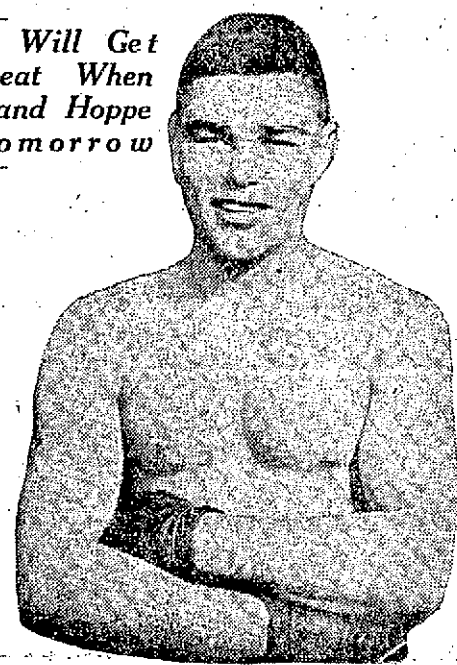

Willie Ritchie, who battles for Parente's show tomorrow night is a 10 to 1 favorite to beat Hoppe, his opponent. The San Francisco fans, who were game enough to give two to one odds that Hoppe would beat Burns and that Willie Moran would like Bob McAllister, are timid in meeting Ritchie tomorrow night. In meeting Ritchie, Hoppe faces a mixer of an unlimited amount of class. If Willie is in condition, there is no telling what will happen to the Butcher-town boy. Even though he is a slow starter, he still possesses enough class in his makeup to give Hoppe the time of his life.

Hoppe may be a wonder for four rounds. Some fans say that he will beat anybody living over this short route course. They point to the fact that both Joe Azevedo and Frankie Burns were called down the line by him. They say he will win. However, it is doubtful whether he can win Ritchie off his feet as he did Burns and Azevedo. Ritchie may accidentally put his famous one-two punch over and that Hoppe's rushing action will stop.

Letting what will happen to the Butcher-town boy. Even though he is a slow starter, he still possesses enough class in his makeup to give Hoppe the time of his life.

Lewis, Kid Graves, Jack Britton and other welterweights. Tonight's bout will only be a try out for him, but nevertheless there is a great deal at stake, for a defeat in the ring would mean a loss of his title. If he wins, he will be able to defend his title. If he loses, he will be forced to fight for his title again.

Left puzzles white. Ritchie Mitchell, the Milwaukee light-weight, once more proved that a boy with a good left hand can make a great showing against a real fighter. This is why Freddie Welsh always escapes unscathed from a conflict with Charlie. Strangely that a good, true and accurate left hand is not a sure thing. Ritchie Mitchell, who is a real fighter, has a left hand that is as good as a left hand. But it is the old story, the best of them have a weakness when you find it.

Target Tips

THE VALUE OF THE RIBBED BARREL.

It is amusing to listen to the arguments that are advanced occasionally regarding the comparative value of the ribbed barrel and the smooth barrel and automatic gun when used for trap work, and the funny part of it is that both sides are equally wrong. The ribbed barrel is a plain barrel and a ribbed barrel is like choosing between beefsteak and fried chicken, a matter of personal preference.

The rib on a shotgun barrel—either plain or ribbed—has always seemed to me to be in the same class and of the same value as playing tennis with a racket in one hand and a book of instructions in the other. There is no doubt that the ribbed barrel is easier to line up when the gun is placed at the shoulder, but the successful field shot and the high score trap shot are not a matter of which have grown so accustomed that lining up the barrel when the gun is thrown to the shoulder in a fraction of a second, as in field shooting, or the position is carefully lined up, as in trap shooting, becomes a matter of instinct and habit. In fact, the expert could keep his eyes closed and do the lining up job just as perfectly.

Charles Ashkin, one of our shotgun authorities, believes that the shooter should not see the barrel at all, much less carefully line it up; in other words, he thinks that the lining up should be done by instinct, and there is a great deal to be said for his argument. Shooting in this way, of course, necessitates a perfectly correct position of the gun, and that the rib is very necessary and that it must be of just so-and-so dimensions, and probably for their own pastime style of getting at the problem of shooting, they are right.

A ventilated rib is simply a regular rib underlaid in such a way that it is kept cool. It is a possibility that a ventilated rib is supposed to arise from the hot, solid rib. For practically all field shooters it is an unnecessary auxiliary.

One of the arguments often advanced against the ribbed barrel is that it causes unequal expansion, resulting in putting the barrel under a temporary strain and causing it to shoot crookedly. There is no foundation for this belief. Tests have shown that while there may be a theoretical difference due to this unequal expansion, practical results show that it can be determined by the shooter. A ribbed barrel is a nice thing to have if you want it. It won't hurt your shooting, and the moral effect may help you some. However, if you have not the price, do not worry, for the lack of a rib never kept anybody from becoming a good shot.

P. R. Canton, Berkeley:

You who kindly tell me through the columns of your paper the muzzle energy of the .401 Winchester, also the number of grains of smokeless powder.

Winchester has a muzzle velocity of 2142 feet per second. It is loaded with sufficient smokeless powder to produce this velocity. Of course, the load can be changed somewhat with each different lot of powder as received from the powder makers so as to keep the velocity constant.

A. N. C. Oakland, Cal.:

Will you kindly tell me through the columns of your paper if a pump gun is as powerful as a pump gun. I notice you state in your column that the pump gun is as powerful as a pump gun, and has no solid or locked breech. I cannot understand how it can be.

L. HEUREUX WILL CHALLENGE WINNER TONIGHT

BILL L'Heureux, former amateur heavyweight champion, may meet the winner of the Jack Dillon-Frank Moran ten-round bout at New York tonight. Bill received a telegram from Harry Pollock, Eastern promoter, last night asking the local boy if he would accept. The terms offered him in the despatch to meet either Dillon or Moran at Brooklyn Park in August.

Bill will challenge the winner of tonight's New York contest by telegram. His hand, which caused his porous showing against Sailor Hendricks, will go under an X-ray today.

Question Box

To the Sporting Editor: Through your question box will you please answer the following queries?

(1) In the case of an "infield fly," is the umpire to use his judgment as to whether it is infield or outfield? (2) On what must he base his judgment? (3) If a base line or back of these lines, 10 or 12 feet, when the grass is in, is supposed to be a fair catch, is it a fair catch? (4) If a fly backs out into the turf, can that be called an infield fly? (5) When the ball is batted the umpire calls "infield fly," the batter who hits the ball is not allowed to catch the ball without liability to be put out?

Thanking you in advance, L. J.

(1) The umpire uses his judgment in the case of an infield fly in determining whether the fly should have been handled by an infielder. Any fly that should have been handled by an infielder is an infield fly. (2) The limit of the infield would of course depend upon the grounds. An outfielder on the San Francisco grounds covers the ground further than does an outfielder on the Oakland grounds. (3) Yes. (4) No.

L. A. WOMAN SCORES HIGH IN EAST

OFDAR POINT, Ohio, June 29.—H. C. Decker, the Plymouth Club shooting champion, has scored 99 in the 100 target championship of the National Indoor Shooting Association, which was held here yesterday. The feature event of the day. Among the best scores made by women was a 77 by Mrs. E. C. Johnson of Los Angeles.

The Tigers dropped to second division when they fell behind the hands of Blank of the Browns. St. Louis won, 6 to 3.

JAY GOULD OUTCLASSES CHAMPS OF OTHER SPORTS

Young Millionaire Has Had No Real Competitor for Clay Court Title in Eleven Years

Champions may come and champions may go, but like the proverbial brook, Jay Gould goes on forever, winning the court tennis championship of America. Eleven times in as many years he has could defeated the finest amateur exponents of court tennis in this country; on three occasions he captured the English amateur title; in 1908 was victorious in the Olympic games matches in London, and two seasons ago he performed the miraculous feat of defeating George Cowey, the English professional, for the world's open championship.

At the age of 17, Gould, a mere youth, of slight frame, and bearing none of the distinguishing marks of great athletes, first took the American honors away from Joshua Crane of Boston, and since that time he has gradually widened the gap between himself and all other great players of the world, until now, in his prime as an athlete, he stands so far ahead of all other amateur and professional players that his constant winning of the championship is a foregone conclusion.

Followers of all kinds of athletics, who have excelled in many ways, credit Gould with being the greatest athlete in the world, in that he surpasses all his rivals in his own sport to a far greater extent than does any other champion in the world.

THAINED FROM BOYHOOD.

As a mere boy, George Gould, the father of the champion, took from his work in the New York Tunnels and Racquet Club Frank Forester, professional, then a youth of unusual court tennis ability, and turned his young son Jay into his hands to be developed into a court tennis star.

The combination of Gould's will, his stamina, quick mind and love of all forms of athletics and Forester's enthusiasm, knowledge of the game and ability as a player made the development of the young millionaire a matter of great speed. At the age of 17 he had become so proficient that when he entered the national championships he was able to take the measure of Joshua Crane, then a remarkable player, and even now Gould's greatest rival among American amateurs.

Pierced with his success, Gould went abroad that season and captured the English amateur title. In 1908, he also won the English professional title, in a match at the Philadelphia Racquet Club, in March, 1914, for the open court tennis championship of the world. Gould was at the top of the form, and astounded the tennis world, only a few of his friends being able to follow him. Gould is a famous professional. Cowey was a baby in his hands, and Gould allowed him only one set in the match.

GOULD HAS THE "RAILROAD" SERVICE and all other down to perfection; is the finest position player the game has ever known. It is cool as the proverbial "ice," has no weakness in his back-hand, a remarkable cut, and has a cut and spin to the ball the like of which no American amateur has ever achieved.

As a double player he loses nothing of his brilliance. Playing with William H. T. Rubin, of the Racquet Club, he has helped him to take a number of national championships.

He is a keen lover of baseball, played the game during his undergraduate days at Columbia University, follows the sport closely, and never tires talking of the game. He is equally fond of motor cars, knows them thoroughly as only an expert can, and gives considerable of his time to the game. He also has a leaning toward high-class dogs.

He has been playing a certain amount of racquet during the years he has been a court tennis champion, but the time he has been forced to give to his greatest game has prevented him from becoming a great racket player, though at the latter game he has developed a considerable amount of ability. He also plays better than the usual game of lawn tennis.

On the face of it, there does not seem to be any reason why Gould should be separated from his championship title for many years to come.

LOST BALL PREVENTS GOLF RECORD

MINNEAPOLIS, June 29.—A lost ball prevented James Simpson, professional of Milwaukee, from breaking the 18-hole course record yesterday, but nevertheless he led the 48 players in the second day's qualifying round for the national open golf championship. Simpson had a 73 in the morning and he needed a par four on the 18th hole in the afternoon for a 69, one stroke under the record.

SITUATION IN MEXICO IS CAUSE OF STOCK FLURRY

Excited Trading in Wall Street Follows Carranza Action

NEW YORK, June 28.—The importance of the Mexican situation as a financial factor was demonstrated at the opening of today's market. The decision of the Mexican government to release the American troops was made the occasion of excited trading. Opening figures of 3 to 10 points in leading stocks followed by the reaction of 2 to 5 points, measured Wall Street's attitude towards the continued uncertainties in the Mexican situation. Other active stocks, including railroads, sugar group and metals were higher, but two to three points. United States Steel's first transaction consisted of 13,000 at $56 to $57, an extreme gain of 1 1/2. Reactions of one to four points, resulting mainly from profit-taking, were registered before the end of the first half hour.

PROFESSIONAL COMMENT.

An extra dividend by Union Pacific is forecasted for the month of May. Last month's foreign trade statement showed the largest exports and a balance four days ago. The stock is said to have gone into very strong hands. Information of high reputation of it and U. S. as the market leaders in next up. E. F. Hutton & Co. market shows indication of wanting to do better. Big earnings, liquidation, gold imports and sugar business are a pretty good foundation to start an upward move. Short interest is quite large. Steel and U. P. seem to be well bought.

PENINSULA VOTERS WAIT MERGING PLAN

Committee Named to Draft Up
Scheme of Government Across Bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—Within the next thirty days the people of the peninsula will know what procedure will be followed in the plan to merge San Francisco and San Mateo counties.

A committee composed of one representative from each incorporated municipality in San Mateo county, four representatives of the county, the city attorneys of each municipality, the district attorney of San Mateo county and of San Francisco, the city attorney of San Francisco and one representative from San Francisco has been named and will commence work immediately. The plan has been discussed by representatives of the civic bodies of both counties.

That a campaign of education must be carried on and a study into the new legislation that will have to be enacted are the two points most necessary for consideration was determined by the members of the informal body.

Officials and other representatives of the two counties have endorsed the plan for the merger. However, the smaller cities of San Mateo county feel that they should be allowed to retain their individuality although under one and the same government.

Near Old Home, But in Trenches

Mother Thinks Son Is in America

ELMHURST, June 29.—On one side of the Danish border, in Denmark, an aged mother anxiously awaited word from Oakland of her missing son, while across the border a few miles away that son, J. Danielson, formerly of Elmhurst, fought with the Canadian force.

Danielson's friends in Oakland had word from him this week for the first time since he left for Canada before the outbreak of war. He is now fighting the Germans in a Canadian regiment stationed in Flanders.

Since Danielson went from Oakland to British Columbia his mother, who lives in Denmark, had written here repeatedly enquiring for him, but no one could give her any idea of his whereabouts.

Then his letter reached here this week informing friends he was fighting not far from his old home. Danielson was employed by the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railroad Company and was well known at the Elmhurst car barns. Later he was in the employment of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company before going to Canada, where he enlisted on the outbreak of war.

Jacobs Will Speak on Economics of War

"The Economic Effect of the War" will be the subject of an address by Isidor Jacobs, president of the California Chamber of Commerce, in the Congregational church auditorium tomorrow evening. Jacobs has just returned from a business trip through England, France and Belgium, stopping on his return at Washington. His opinions on the tax and merchant marine legislation were sought by many high officials.

Jacobs has also spoken before the merchants' and manufacturers' committee of the Chamber of Commerce. The lecture will be under the auspices of the Men's League of the church.

Boiler Safety Orders Are Topic of Hearing

The Industrial Accident Commission has arranged for a public hearing to consider tentative boiler safety orders in San Francisco on July 6, 1916, in Room 407, Underwood building, 525 Market street, commencing at 10 a. m.

A similar public hearing will be held in Los Angeles on July 13, 1916.

In Room 405, Union League building, commencing at 10 a. m.

In 1915 there were in the State of California seven deaths due to accidents around boilers. The records show that there were nine boiler explosions during this period.

A careful compilation of all the boiler explosions recorded in the United States during the year 1915 shows the total number to have been 404. These explosions caused 132 deaths and injuries to 236 persons.

Letter Saves Body From Potter's Field

PETALUMA, June 29.—The finding by Coroner F. H. Phillips of a letter written fifteen years ago saved the body of J. E. Skinner from being buried at the expense of the county in the potter's field. Skinner, who had lived in Petaluma and Bloomfield, dropped dead last Thursday near Stone station on the electric road, and nobody knew anything about his relatives, as he had never discussed them with his acquaintances. In going through his effects, Coroner Phillips found the letter written by a relative at Decatur, Mich., January 26, 1901. An investigation revealed the fact that Phillips has a sister, Mrs. M. Haydon, still living at Decatur.

Mrs. Haydon has wired that she will either have the remains properly interred here at her expense, or else have them sent east.

Monument Is Erected to Heroine of Battle

CARLEISLE, Pa., June 29.—A monument has been unveiled in the little old graveyard here in memory of Molly Pitcher, whose heroic deed at the battle of Monmouth, 125 years ago this day, gave her a place in American history. The memorial is an heroic statue of a woman, and was erected over her grave by the State of Pennsylvania. Governor Brumbaugh delivered the principal address.

The Real Danger of the U. S. A.

COPYRIGHT F. & C. 1916

All men agree there is but little likelihood of any foreign foe pitting his army or navy against American determination to defend its lands and principles.

The danger that threatens the U. S. A. exists in that characteristic of American men that has given birth to both the High-Cost-of-Living and the Cost-of-High-Living, one the twin brother of the other. When you dig right down to the bottom you will find, the father of both is the High-Cost-of-Doing-Business. This is the result of a long-continued public invitation to the merchant to make things brighter, more cheerful, more attractive. Merchants shrewdly foresaw the possibilities and baited their hooks for more encouragement along that line.

A great many clothiers are established in the most costly street-level locations, dividing a big part of their spoils with some fat landlord and letting other portions of your money leak out to interior decorators, fresco artists, marble and mosaic workers, etc. Such expenses waste the customer's money on useless and elaborate stuff, simply pandering to his false pride and to that of the clothier himself. Even the tremendous business we do in our chain of powerful busy upstairs clothing stores from coast to coast would not make it possible for us to if we did not at the same time amputate from the cost of doing business every detail of elaborateness, every item of extravagance, every speck of false front, every bit of useless costly decoration.

Our upstairs clothing business is conducted differently. Just because of that we've out-grown all competition and have in 7 short years grown from a little 20x40 ft. upstairs office room into
